Customs Returns Decrease Nearly Five Millions. Billion Asked.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—Customs receipts of the government for November fell off about $4,500,000 compared to November, 1912, according to the monthly treasury statement issued today. November was the first full month of operation for the new tariff and if the month was fair test of the bill's revenue-producing powers the annual return from the source will decline more than $4,500,000.

The ordinary disbursements for November exceeded the ordinary receipts by $2,713,732, compared to an excess of receipts for the same month last year of $4,824,529.

For the fiscal year to date the disbursements have exceeded the receipts by $3,745,108, compared to an excess of receipts last year of $1,817,112. The net balance in the general fund at the close of business on Saturday was $119,466,111, and the (Continued on Third Page.)

According to the Democrats Your Clothes Ought to Be Cheaper.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—Raw wool went on the free list today under the provisions of the new tariff act. Figures on wool that had been held in bonded warehouses waiting admission free of duty, are not available here, but it is estimated that probably $1,000,000 worth was in bond in New York alone.

Southern Counties Are Well Represented on the State Day. Mrs. Shelton Makes the Address.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Dec. 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Today was California Day at the United States Land Show in the Coliseum building. Seven southern counties of California and Tulsa county were represented. Oranges were used as badges and flags for souvenirs.

Illustrated lectures were delivered by James A. Jasper, representing San Diego county at the California-Panama Exposition; Mrs. Rose Shelton, representing Los Angeles county; G. W. McDonald for Orange county; and A. E. Mest, secretary of the Tulsa County Board of Trade, for Tulsa county.

Both Southern California and Tulsa county have attractive exhibits, showing fruits and agricultural products in their section. The Southern California exhibit includes old Spanish Moorish architecture. Both exhibits are attracting considerable attention.

Former Director of the Defunct Comopolitan of Pittsburgh (Pa.) Convicted of False Entries.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
PITTSBURGH (Pa.) Dec. 1.—A. H. Richmond, Jr., former director of the defunct Comopolitan Bank of Pittsburgh, in the United States District Court, was found guilty today of having assisted the bank in the institution's books. His bail was increased to $10,000, after a motion for a new trial had been filed by his attorneys.

Monopoly in Labor Is Alleged.

United States Grand Jury in Pueblo Condemns Their Methods.

Calls Mine Workers' Plot an Insult to the Citizens of America.

State of Insurrection Found to Exist in Southern Colorado.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
PUEBLO (Colo.) Dec. 1.—Federal indictments against national officers and organizers of the United Mine Workers of America and members of that organization were returned this afternoon by the jury which investigated the coal strike in this State. Ten indictments were made public and fifteen more were held until arrests can be made.

Charged with maintaining a monopoly of labor, these national officers of the United Mine Workers were indicted.

John P. White, president; Frank J. Hayes, vice-president; William P. Green, treasurer. Indictments charging conspiracy in restraint of trade and interfering with interstate trade in coal were returned against John R. Lawson, Adolph Germer, Robert Uhrlich, A. B. McGarry, Charles Batay and James Morgan, strike leaders and organizers of the United Mine Workers of America, and Edward Wallace, editor of a labor paper at Trinidad.

The jury prepared a long report in which mining conditions were reviewed. It closed with recommendations that the mining laws be more diligently enforced, that in case of disputes both parties should be required by law to operate the mines pending settlement. Financial interest of coal companies in saloons was denounced as reprehensible.

THE JURY'S REPORT.

Methods of the United Mine Workers were severely condemned, the report saying: "The methods pursued by the United Mine Workers of America in their endeavors to force recognition of their union by the mine operators in this State are an insult to conservative and law-abiding labor. They have brought experienced strike agitators and have armed hundreds of irresponsible aliens who have become a menace to the peace and prosperity and even the lives of our two men were seriously injured. Something went wrong with the steering gear."

An evangelist at Ontario shocked his audience when he invited the entire congregation to go to Hades. His invitation was unanimously rejected. A new trust company has been organized by Riverside business men. It is capitalized at $100,000, fully paid, and has a strong directorate.

PACIFIC SLOPE. The Socialist petition that Gov. Johnson appoint a judge to hear the Wheatland riot cases was turned down yesterday in Sacramento. Petitions and protests against conditions at the State University farm were filed with the Governor yesterday in Sacramento.

GENERAL EASTERN. A Boston dispatch last night stated that Carnegie had succeeded up to date in giving away all his wealth but fifteen million dollars. New Mayor of Indianapolis yesterday took personal charge of the police and many arrests of disorderly unionists were made.

WASHINGTON. The Supreme Court yesterday ruled against contracts to prevent cut rates in copyrighted books. A bill to put all violators of the Sherman law in prison was introduced yesterday by Representative Burton.

MEXICO. Gen. Villa reported last night that the Federals had evacuated Chihuahua and that women and children were marching to the United States border.

Advices from Juarez last night were that Gen. Villa had helped himself to a hundred thousand cash and provisions and clothing worth as much more because the merchants had spurned his paper.

The German Consul at Juarez denied last night the allegations of the Mexican rebels that he is giving asylum to Gen. Castro, Federal commander of Juarez, since the town fell into Villa's hands.

As there was good reason to believe that the Crown Princess was also interested in the tango, his parents decided to forbid all officers in uniform dancing it.

HUNT LOPEZ WITH GASES.

POISONOUS FUMES ARE DRIVEN INTO HIS REFUGE.

Sheriff and Deputies from Seven Utah Counties Watch the Mine Where the Mexican Murderer Lopez Is Hidden, but He Now Makes No Sign of Life.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
BINGHAM (Utah) Dec. 1.—Whether Ralph Lopez, the slayer of five peace officers and a fellow Mexican, lay dead in the Utah-Apex mine, or avoiding the deadly gases in the mine, he still planned a dash for liberty, was a question unanswered tonight. Knowing his resourcefulness, there was no let-up in the watchfulness at the tunnel mouth, on which searchlights were trained while the Sheriff of seven counties and their scores of deputies kept unrelaxed guard.

Since early morning, through openings in the bulkheads constructed at each of the tunnel mouths, poisonous gases have been directed. Tonight an automobile, carrying 1000 pounds of sulphur, was hauled here from Salt Lake in order to keep the smudges going until a fresh supply arrived on the train tomorrow morning. In addition to sulphur all the chemicals capable of generating poisonous gases that could be obtained here were being used in the smudges.

The only word from Lopez today came early this afternoon, when he approached the bulkhead at the mouth of the Andy tunnel and called for his friend, Julio Corrello. When asked what he wanted he called again for Corrello, but before the latter arrived he had retired back into the depths of the mountain.

On Corrello's being unable to get a response, Mike Vukovich, a native of the upper levels, where Lopez took refuge when he entered the mine last Thursday night, Smoke was also issuing through cracks of the mountain, showing that one of the tunnels ran very near the surface. Guards were placed at these spots.

As night fell, while the smudges continued to pour their poison back into the heart of the mountain, the never-diminishing crowd of foreigners, who were apathetic and gave way to whispered questions as to what was the secret behind the bulkheads.

The deputies guarding the Andy tunnel mouth believed Lopez would overcome this afternoon behind the bulkhead, two hours later they heard a scraping sound, followed by a cough.

Late tonight sounds of smoke were rushing out of various tunnels, showing that certain parts of the mine were already filled. At these places it was impossible for the guards to get nearer than thirty feet to the entrances. In the lowest level of the workings smudges were placed directly beneath shafts leading up into the upper levels, where Lopez took refuge when he entered the mine last Thursday night, Smoke was also issuing through cracks of the mountain, showing that one of the tunnels ran very near the surface. Guards were placed at these spots.

In case Lopez does not appear, the smudging will continue for another day and night. Then twenty-four hours must elapse before the deputies can enter. There is a slight possibility of the fumes' escaping asphyxiation in some far corner of the mine.

TO SCOTLAND FOREVER.

That's Where the Fine Burns Manuscripts Will Go, Thanks to John Gribbel of the Ledger.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 1.—The mystery surrounding the whereabouts of the Glenriddell manuscripts of Robert Burns, which were sold by the Athenaeum Library of Liverpool last summer and for which a committee of Scots in England has been searching, was cleared up here tonight when John Gribbel, vice-president of the Philadelphia Public Ledger, announced that the two volumes had come into his possession.

Mr. Gribbel made the announcement at a dinner of the St. Andrews Society. He said he had purchased the manuscripts from a dealer and that he would never let them to Scotland forever, protected by a deed of trust, as a gift to the people who gave Robert Burns to the world.

He finished speaking the two quarto volumes, bound in polished calf, were taken from a steel fire-proof box and laid before the guests.

Carnegie is "Making Good" Once More.

Andrew Carnegie.

Who according to Boston advices, has realized his heart's desire of becoming a poor man. Of the many, many millions he once had he is said now to be worth "only" fifteen million, rated by Boston as a small amount in these days of billion-dollar fortunes.

Ambition.

CARNEGIE AS A PAUPER, BUT A FEW MILLIONS LEFT.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BOSTON, Dec. 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] According to the Boston News Bureau, Andrew Carnegie is today a poor man—that is, poor in these days of billion-dollar fortunes. From over $100,000,000, of which he was master shortly after the United States Steel Corporation was formed, his fortune has dwindled to some $15,000,000. He has given away money to such an extent that he has fairly well succeeded in his ambition to become a poor man.

If his passion for philanthropy ceases at 78 years of age, he can be reasonably sure, with the 5 per cent. income upon his $15,000,000, of being able to pay his taxes and maintain his house in Fifth avenue and his Bibo Castle in Scotland. He has, of course, provided handsomely for his wife and daughter, but he has given away millions upon millions of United States Steel bonds. He has disposed of nearly all of them. He had reserved $25,000,000 for his last material stake in this world, but when he had established his Carnegie funds and had put his millions of bonds in the hands of trustees, he had to make good some $10,000,000 of donations that he had promised, out of his own pocket. The trustees' ideas on the matter differing from his own, therefore he was left with only $15,000,000 to scrape along for the rest of his life.

LINCOLN WAS BUSY ALSO; BUT NOT SO BUSY AS WILSON

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Dec. 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] An old couple walked slowly up the path of the White House today and asked to be allowed to shake hands with President Wilson. They had been married fifty years, they explained, and wanted to be accorded the same honor they received when on their honeymoon. Then they shook hands with President Lincoln. But President Wilson was too busy. His time, the clerks explained, was completely filled. Two hours later they left for their home in Ohio. They were Mr. and Mrs. Oliver S. Bond of Toledo. Mr. Bond is president of the Merchants' and Clerks' Savings Bank in that city. He is 82 years old. Mr. Bond is 72. They are in the East going over the same route they took on their honeymoon—from New York City to Philadelphia, Washington and Toledo.

Carranzistas Report that the Federals Have Left Chihuahua.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
JUAREZ (Mex.) Dec. 1.—Rather than endure starvation the Federal troops have evacuated Chihuahua City, which has been under siege for weeks, according to advices received tonight by Gen. Francisco Villa, the rebel leader. The evacuation leaves the city open to possession by the rebels.

The report received by Villa was that Salvador Mercado, military Governor of the State, with 2000 Federal troops, had left on foot for Ojinaga, on the United States border near Marfa, Tex.; that Gen. Jose Tame Salazar and Pascual Orozco, with more than 1000 Federals, had retreated to the mountains west of the city and that hundreds of civilians, including women and children, who were on the verge of starvation, had started out to walk to the United States border.

Besides being the capital of the State, Chihuahua City, with a population normally of 35,000, is the metropolis of Northern Mexico. Neither in the Mexican revolution nor in the present uprising has Chihuahua been taken from the Federals. Its garrison and the commanding positions for sharpshooters and machine guns, afforded by the cathedral and public buildings, heretofore have presented a formidable barrier to invaders. Had the rebels reached the city and the Federals resisted, it was believed that a fight in the city would have resulted in great loss of life and property.

Conditions in the city were said to be such that life there was no longer endurable. The Spanish viaduct which conveyed water from the mountains was reported to have been destroyed and the food supply was exhausted. Gen. Villa tonight telegraphed details of the evacuation to Gen. Carranza at Hermosillo, stating that the proposed advance of the rebels southward to Mexico City would now be expedited. The possession of the city, he said, would make rebel territory of the country straight through to Zacatecas and operations would begin about that city and at Aguas Calientes.

Among the besieged citizens at Chihuahua who are believed to be seeking refuge elsewhere were Juan Cresal, a banker and relative of Enrique Cerezo, former supporter of President Diaz, and Albert Terrazas, a wealthy landowner.

Gen. Villa said Federico More, a prominent merchant, had been named civil Governor of Chihuahua State, his selection being based on the belief that he would be acceptable to the rebels.

CALLS IT OFFICIAL.

"The report of the capitulation of Chihuahua is authentic," said Villa. "It came to me in an official dispatch which said the city was evacuated on Sunday. A rebel courier at once set out and rode 130 miles northward, where he met the rebel advance guard. This was at a point called Villa Ahumada, where we have established telegraphic communication. I have transmitted the details to General Carranza, the head of the revolutionists."

"It is my purpose now to send a force to intercept Mercado, who is fleeing to Ojinaga, and also to capture Salazar and Orozco. The main rebel body probably will concentrate at Chihuahua preparatory to the advance southward. We will be nearing Mexico City within a month."

HELP THEMSELVES.

Five hundred thousand dollars worth of provisions and clothing are $100,000 from the Banco de Minero were confiscated in Juarez by Villa to support the rebels. The storekeepers, most of them Spanish, appealed to United States Consul Edwards and later closed their shops and handed over the money to the Consul. Consul Edwards later returned the keys to the owners, saying he could not guarantee the safety of the property. Meantime the places were forced open and the goods and money taken. It was said the properties were insured in an English company against looting.

MOBILIZING AT CANDELA.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

LAREDO (Tex.) Dec. 1.—Reports received here today stated that rebels were mobilizing at Candela, near Monterrey, for a attack on Monterrey. The revolutionists, it is said, have not molested the railroads and are giving non-combatants every opportunity to leave the city. Color is given to the report of preparations for an attack by the rumor that Monterey banks have requested the withdrawal of money there. Refugees already have deposited $200,000 in gold in Laredo banks.

Its Assessed Valuation Over Seven Hundred and Ninety-three Millions.

Enormous Increase a Proof of Immense Growth in One Year.

Statistics that Make Every one "in Our Midst" Happy.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
SACRAMENTO, Dec. 1.—California property owners will pay $38,496,140 in taxes for the support and maintenance of the fifty-eight county governments of the State for the fiscal year of 1913, including $1,244,755 for the Panama-Pacific Exposition, according to figures compiled today by State Comptroller Chambers. This is an increase of $6,375,478 over taxes paid for similar purposes during the fiscal year which ended June 30, 1912.

Los Angeles county with an assessed valuation of $192,284,027 is the richest county in the State. Its county and exposition tax is $5,585,482. Citizens of San Francisco with property valued at $223,847,729, will be called upon to pay a total tax of $11,829,432, representing the cost of both city and county governments.

Los Angeles and San Francisco show assessed valuation gains over last year of $19,781,559 and $78,783,382, respectively.

Controller Chambers said the enormous increase in valuations over last year was an indication of the State's remarkable growth and development.

Taxes levied for special purposes, by districts or for the cost of municipal government, except in the case of the city and county of San Francisco, are not included in the figures announced. Neither do the county taxes include the corporation taxes, which are levied on the State.

The property valuation upon which the $38,496,140 tax this year is based, totals $2,963,707,539 as compared with $2,895,217,061 for the year of $2,462,373,042, representing a gain in property values in a single year of $61,529,497.

Taxpayers in the incorporated cities of the State will pay $22,027,284 toward the support of county governments or "outside" assessed valuations as follows:

Operative real estate and improvements, $11,444,527,818.
Non-operative personal property and money, $22,592,954.
Operative personal property and money, $18,179,927.
Non-operative personal property and money, $12,255,738.

Surgeon Says Every Organ Except Brain Was Diseased, and Death Was Due to Natural Causes.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
MILWAUKEE (Wis.), Dec. 1.—By order of Dist. Atty. J. Higgins, an autopsy was performed today on the body of William C. Russell, who was claimed as a brother by the North Dakota and California men who are demanding half the estate of the late Daniel Russell. Russell died Saturday.

The medical examiner said later that the autopsy indicated that death was due to natural causes. Every organ, except the brain, he said, was diseased, and he considered it strange that Russell had not died ten years ago.

All the members of the household were questioned by Dist. Atty. Higgins regarding the past life, last movements and identity of the dead man.

Brother of Governor-General of the Philippines Is Elected President of the Southern Railway.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—Fairfax Harrison, president of the Chicago, Indianapolis and Louisville Railway Company, was elected president today of the Southern Railway Company to succeed the late W. W. Finley.

Fairfax Harrison is 48 years old, was 14 years old when he was appointed assistant to the president of the Southern. Three years later he became vice-president of the road. He filled this office nearly three years, resigning in 1910 to assume the presidency of the Chicago, Indianapolis and Louisville Railway Company, which is controlled jointly by the Southern and Louisville and Nashville Railroad.

Mr. Harrison is a native of New York City. He is a son of Burton Harrison of this city and a brother of Francis Harrison, Governor-General of the Philippines.

ANOTHER JOB ALSO.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—Southern Railway has received word that Mr. Harrison was also elected president of the Alabama Great Southern, the Mobile and Ohio and the Virginia and Southern, which the late W. W. Finley was president.

FEAR LIFTING OF EMBARGO.

Southern California Cities Protest Against Shipment of Arms Into Mexico.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Citizens of Southern California today protested to Secretary of State Bryan against any lifting of the embargo on arms for the Mexican Constitutionalists. Telegrams signed by residents of San Diego, San Pedro, Los Angeles and other cities vigorously objected to the embargo being lifted. The protestants said if the embargo was removed, millions of rounds of ammunition and thousands of rifles stored in Los Angeles belonging to friends of the Constitutionalists might later be used against Americans in Mexico if intervention occurs.

The Bank of London and Mexico had closed its Monterey branch and that the Banco de Mexicana also had arranged to withdraw all branches.

Evidence that the Federal command of Gen. Rubio Navarrete was not annihilated after the capture of Victoria, as rumored, developed Saturday when Navarrete's soldiers began coming into Monterey. They admitted defeat at Victoria.

MORE RUMORS ABOUT GUAYMAS.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
HERMOSILLO (Mex.), Dec. 1.—Although there was no information here regarding the reported evacuation of Guaymas and Mazatlan, Constitutionalists considered it possible that the Federal garrisons of these two west coast cities had departed by boat last night, leaving a small garrison to defend the coast.

Gen. Carranza said that two insurgent columns were marching from the State of Jalisco, a more central point on the west coast south of Guaymas and Mazatlan. It was considered probable the two Federal garrisons had been ordered to evacuate the city.

It was believed the Federals had decided to mobilize the west coast Federal garrisons at Guadalajara, in the State of Jalisco, a more central point, in order to meet the insurgent advance in better fashion than was possible heretofore.

TUCSON (Ariz.), Dec. 1.—Reports circulated here and at Nogales, that the Federal garrison at Guaymas had surrendered were generally discredited today, although it was believed that the disaffection of the troops under Gen. Ojeda could with preparation of the Constitutionalists to renew attack presaged the early fall of the Sonora report.

Railroad wires were in operation to Guaymas but officials at this end said they had heard nothing to indicate an intention on the part of the Federal garrison to surrender.

TROOPS REACH GUAYMAS.
NOGALES (Ariz.), Dec. 1.—Information received here from American sources at Guaymas indicated that the men of the Cullacan Federal garrison reached Guaymas by steamer after evacuating the Sinaloa State capital to Mazatlan.

This number accounts for all but about 100 of the original Federal garrison, so it is believed the total of killed, wounded and missing will be covered by this figure. Residents of Cullacan are quoted as saying that the evacuation was made shortly after dark, and was not discovered by the Constitutionalists for twelve hours, so it is supposed the seventy-five-mile retreat to the boats was made in good order.

NO CASE AGAINST STEINFELD.
Court Decides Tucson Merchant Broke No Law in His Alleged Shipment of Arms Into Mexico.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
PHOENIX (Ariz.), Dec. 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] That ammunition and rifles may properly be shipped to a border line point and there sold without reference to their ultimate destination, is the essence of a decision made today by Judge Sawtelle in the United States Court. The judge sustained a demurrer in the case against Albert Steinfeld of Tucson, charged with complicity in the shipment of arms into Mexico and stated that his action would apply also to fix other defendants in similar actions.

It was decided that the offense, if any, was committed in Connecticut, the State of original shipment and not in Arizona and without the jurisdiction of the Arizona court; secondly, the indictment charged a mere intent to ship arms into Mexico and mere intent is not an offense; third, the indictment failed to specify the particular point within the forbidden territory to which the alleged shipment was made, thus being incomplete. Demurrers also were sustained to a part of similar actions against the Phoenix Company of Blaine and several Douglas merchants.

After acquittals in two of nine indictments against J. R. Alexander, former Indian agent at Sacaton, charged with uttering false vouchers, and not in Arizona and without the jurisdiction of all actions pending against the defendant.

To Retake Torreon.
MEXICO CITY, Dec. 1.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] The city of Torreon which has long been in the hands of the rebels, is about to be retaken by Federals under Gen. Jose Refugio Velasco, according to dispatches received today by the War Department.

VILLA REPORTS CASTRO FOUND.

German Consul Denies He Shields the Fugitive.

Carranza's Brother-in-Law Is Shot by Federals.

Espee to Run Its Trains South of Hermosillo.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
HERMOSILLO, Dec. 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Doubt regarding the fate of Gen. Francisco Castro, former Federal commander at Hermosillo, who disappeared at the time the city fell into the hands of the Constitutionalists, was removed today when Gen. Carranza received a message from Gen. Villa announcing that Castro had been discovered in hiding at the home of German Consul Max Weber. The Consul, however, denies it.

Villa was directed to ask for the surrender of the Federal general on the ground that he was wanted on a charge of creating public disorder and inciting riot and that under no circumstances should he be considered a political refugee lodged in the consulate of a friendly nation.

No reply had been received from Gen. Villa up to a late hour tonight. Unconfirmed reports from the south assert that the Federal garrison at Guaymas and Mazatlan have been ordered to mobilize in the territory between Hermosillo and Mazatlan. The Constitutionalists hope to be able to reach Guaymas before any resistance can be made by the garrisons in Jalisco.

That Federal commanders should have agreed to abandon Guaymas and Mazatlan for the purpose of reaching Hermosillo, the Constitutionalists is considered likely but no one at army headquarters between Monterey and Victoria, the truth of the rumor.

Gen. Carranza was notified today that his brother-in-law, Capt. Jose Salinas, had been captured and immediately executed by a Federal party working in the territory between Monterey and Victoria. Capt. Salinas was connected with the column commanded by Gen. Murguía, who has long been a leading fighter in Coahuila, and was said to have been taking observations of the Federal camp when surprised by the enemy. As soon as his identity was established he was shot and his body left lying along the road.

The dead officer was the father of Lieut. Alberto Salinas, a graduate of the American university, who has been acting as the aid of his uncle, Gen. Carranza. Members of the Carranza army had been in the vicinity of Capt. Salinas was confirmed.

Although the railroad south from this city has been cut, the military authorities for some time the announcement was made today that hereafter the railroad would be under the control of the Southern Pacific Company, and that trains would begin running tomorrow.

Between Nogales and Hermosillo has maintained a service of three trains a week since discovered by the Constitutionalists that daily trains will be run from the future as far as the State capital.

All of the Constitutional money captured at Mazatlan has been delivered to the Constitutional authorities by order of the American Federal court, and is now being placed in circulation.

The members of the Yaqui Indian division were paid off in this money and no difficulty was encountered in passing the bills. Several merchants refused the money this morning but later they were told that the money was accepted on a parity with other Mexican bills. The prevailing rate is two-eighths of a dollar for one dollar.

Several members of Gen. Carranza's army were captured by the Federal forces and until they report they are not considered likely that the Constitutionalists will make any announcement regarding his immediate plans other than that he expects to go to Chihuahua within a short time.

ANTI-REBEL PLOT FOUND ON PAPER.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
HERMOSILLO (Sonora, Mex.), Dec. 1.—A plot to cause an anti-Constitutionalist uprising was exposed when Antonio Caballero, a wealthy resident of Cullacan, was found with papers relating to plans for uprisings in towns held by the Mexican insurgents, according to officials here. Following his arrest in Cullacan, he was placed in the Sonora penitentiary here today. Caballero, it is alleged, has been connected with the movement for some time. He will be tried here, probably by a military court.

FAILL OF ROCK BURIES MINERS.

FOUR MEN STILL ENTOMBED AT CRIPPLE CREEK.

Of the Five Cut Off by the Cave-In Is Rescued, but Stays to Help Get His Companions Out—Another Is Known to Be Alive and His Rescue Is Probable.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
CRIPPLE CREEK (Col.), Dec. 1.—Five miners were entombed today in a cave-in which extended from the fourth level to the thirteenth level of the Golden Cycle mine and the Christmas mine adjoining.

One of the five was rescued and one is known to be alive and uninjured in the rescue work. He said three of the miners were working behind him, a distance of at least sixty feet, on the eighth level and he estimates that the fall of rock extended for more than sixty feet behind the room in which he was trapped.

Frank Cabris, entombed in the Christmas mine, is known to be uninjured and will be rescued as quickly as the pile of rock and ore in front of him can be cleared away.

No response is had to tapping of the rock slides in the Christmas mine. The cave-in reached the eighth level of the Golden Cycle, where the entombed men are Frank Wood, a shift boss, graduate of Colorado College; Samuel Sorenson and Patrick Keavy, diggers.

The cave-in was caused by a giant rock which fell from the ceiling of the mine, crushing the men and the rock and ore in front of him.

At midnight rescue work had proceeded but little and with ever-increasing danger to the rescue, the men who were constantly threatened by the 600-foot slide which would continue to slip downward into the lower levels of the mine.

LONDON'S SEAL "BROKEN."

New One Replaces the Old, Which Had Been in Constant Service for 522 Years.

(BY CABLE AND DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
LONDON, Dec. 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The official seal of the corporation of London was formally "broken" today, and a new one substituted. The old one had been in constant use for 522 years. It had only one predecessor, which was destroyed in 1381 because it was "too small, rude and ancient."

The seal, which was used for the last time today, was of silver, about the size of a dollar. It is much worn and blurred.

PEACE FAR OFF, BLISS DECLARES.

Says the Army Faces Long Stay on Border.

General Asserts He Cannot Enforce Embargo.

Complains that the Law Is Far Too Vague.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—How the American border patrol has found it well-nigh impossible to enforce the embargo against the shipment of arms and ammunition into Mexico was described in a report from Brig. Gen. Bliss, commanding the forces on the border, made public today at the War Department. Practically the entire population along the international line, the report said, is in sympathy with the Mexican rebels, and as the result large quantities of war munitions have been smuggled across in spite of the unceasing vigilance of the troops.

Gen. Bliss complained of the vagueness of the law, saying that the instructions to the army were so general that too much of a task was imposed upon the troops and junior officers. He recommended that two of the best-equipped officials of the government's legal force be sent to travel along the line and decide questions of doubtful rights and powers.

In this connection the general referred to instructions sent to him last June to hold troops ready to go to the aid of the threatened American Consul representative at Piedras Negras. For several days, the general pointed out, the question of possible peace or war rested entirely upon the direction of this Consul, as it was a foregone conclusion that the American soldiers would have to fight their way into Mexico if the necessity of protecting the Consul had arisen.

The necessity of keeping a considerable proportion of the United States army on the border for an indefinite period was forecast in the report. Gen. Bliss, who has been on the line since the beginning of the Madero revolution, called attention to the fulfillment of his prediction that the breaking up of the troops would last year into small bands would not restore peace, because the large lawless elements among the troops would not consent to return to ordinary vocations.

"THE RED FLAGGERS."
This attitude, the report said, "especially characterized the leaders and forces in the State of Chihuahua. These are the forces that have always been popularly known among the Mexicans as 'red flaggers.' Their leaders preach the distribution of land and of wealth generally, and apparently have no concern with any other faction of the revolution."

A consideration of these facts is of interest, as they suggest another forecasting of the future. The conditions across the border which lead to one successful revolution unfortunately seem always to point the way to a counter revolution. If this be the case, the first reasonable hope of continued peace will come when an established government proves strong enough to crush the counter revolution.

The prevalence of the present conditions means the continued occupation of the border by a strong force of troops. The success of the present revolution probably will mean the indefinite continuance of this occupation in anticipation of the counter revolution. When a counter revolution is thoroughly crushed (at least in the northern States) and the established government can occupy and hold its own border towns, normal conditions will be restored and a regular distribution of our troops will be possible.

This was another day of inactivity for Washington. At least on the surface, in the diplomatic treatment of the Mexican problem.

HALE AT WASHINGTON.
William Bayard Hale, who has been conferring with Gen. Carranza and his Constitutional chiefs at the rail station, returned today and had a long talk with Secretary Bryan. He will stay in the city for some time.

It is understood that Hale sought no formal understanding with the Constitutionalists on behalf of the United States government, but merely made inquiry as to what the Constitutionalists intended to do in certain contingencies.

Rear-Admiral Fletcher reported to the Navy Department today his success in insuring protection of foreign interests in the oil fields near the Gulf Coast of Mexico without any showing display of force. It was not clear just how the American naval officer had managed to get in touch with Gen. Aguilar, the rebel leader in the State of Vera Cruz, as the latter was understood to be at least twenty-five miles in the interior. He reached him, however, and was assured of the safety of foreign lives and property.

News came to the Navy Department of the departure from Europe of the fourth division of the Atlantic fleet, comprising the battleship Connecticut, Kansas and Ohio. From the Azores these vessels will steam directly for the Mexican coast.

WHERE IS GEN. CASTRO?
NOT HARBORED BY GERMANY.
[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
JUAZUEZ (Mex.), Dec. 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Gen. Francisco Castro, former Federal commander at Hermosillo, who disappeared at the time the city fell into the hands of the Constitutionalists, was removed today when Gen. Carranza received a message from Gen. Villa announcing that Castro had been discovered in hiding at the home of German Consul Max Weber. The Consul, however, denies it.

Villa was directed to ask for the surrender of the Federal general on the ground that he was wanted on a charge of creating public disorder and inciting riot and that under no circumstances should he be considered a political refugee lodged in the consulate of a friendly nation.

No reply had been received from Gen. Villa up to a late hour tonight. Unconfirmed reports from the south assert that the Federal garrison at Guaymas and Mazatlan have been ordered to mobilize in the territory between Hermosillo and Mazatlan.

It was considered probable the two Federal garrisons had been ordered to evacuate the city.

It was believed the Federals had decided to mobilize the west coast Federal garrisons at Guadalajara, in the State of Jalisco, a more central point, in order to meet the insurgent advance in better fashion than was possible heretofore.

Railroad wires were in operation to Guaymas but officials at this end said they had heard nothing to indicate an intention on the part of the Federal garrison to surrender.

Between Nogales and Hermosillo has maintained a service of three trains a week since discovered by the Constitutionalists that daily trains will be run from the future as far as the State capital.

All of the Constitutional money captured at Mazatlan has been delivered to the Constitutional authorities by order of the American Federal court, and is now being placed in circulation.

TO MAP KEMPERS.

Congressman Hayes Will Ask Congress for Appropriation in the Development of California Deposits. (BY AP. WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Dec. 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The help beds of the Pacific coast may in a short time replace the immense supplies of potash used in the manufacture of American fertilizer, practically every pound of which is now imported from Germany.

Representative Kahn today received a letter from Acting Secretary of Agriculture Galloway, in reply to an inquiry Kahn had made concerning utilization of the help beds, in which Galloway declared that the help on the California coast alone could be used to produce one million tons annually of potassium chloride, which would equal all the potash salts imported from Germany and consumed as fertilizer in the United States every year.

The department, during the past two summers, said Galloway, has made a survey of the California help beds and now needs an appropriation of $1000 to make maps of the beds for the use of persons who might wish to engage in the industry of turning help into potash salts.

Senator Poinsett of Washington has been interested in the project and will confer with Kahn on the plan to get an appropriation for the maps through Congress at this session.

Representative Hays, in whose district the largest supplies of the big seaweed exist, will introduce the bill for an appropriation. Kahn and Hayes are now preparing the bill.

Dr. Bellar Announces at Paris That He Cures Typhoid With a Culture from the Patient's Blood. (BY AP. WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

PARIS, Dec. 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A successful new method of curing typhoid fever was announced today by Dr. Jouis Bellar. It is called auto-vaccination, the vaccine used being a culture of Eberth bacilli made of the patient's own blood.

After two days of culture in sterilized heat, 200,000,000 germs are injected into the patient's blood at intervals of twelve hours. If, after five days' treatment the patient's temperature is still high, a further injection of 200,000,000 germs is made. The treatment has shown splendid results in even the most serious cases.

The Changing Age

Girls and boys from 14 to 19 years of age undergo physical changes which tax their strength to the utmost and the strain is always apparent from pale cheeks, colorless lips, and tired bodies—sometimes eruptions of the skin and the utter lack of the ambition and animation which their younger years were filled.

Budding into womanhood and manhood, with the duties of school or business, demands concentrated nourishment which is ready convertible into red blood corpuscles, energy and strength, and the very best thing for this changing age is the medical nutriment in Scott's Emulsion—it possesses the rare blood-making properties of cod liver oil in a palatable form; hypophosphites for the nervous system, with the healing, soothing qualities of pure glycerine.

Its nourishing force promotes assimilation, yields direct returns in abundant red blood, fills hollow cheeks, tones the nerves, makes all good food do good, and does it in a natural easy manner.

The sustaining nutriment in Scott's Emulsion is so helpful to this changing age that it should never be neglected—every druggist has it.

CLAIM RIGHT TO ICE CARS.

Precooling Case Argued in Supreme Court.

Shippers Assert Carriers Want Too Much.

Ask Why the Railroads Do Not Complain Before.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Dec. 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The case of the railroads in the precooling case was opened this afternoon before the Supreme Court by Gardiner Lathrop for the shippers.

He was followed by Blackman Estelina for the government, and W. E. Lamb for the fruit growers. The hours was the entire time allotted by the court for the oral arguments, which will be concluded at tomorrow's session.

If the tenor of questions asked by members of the court can be taken as any indication of its sentiment, the court leans to the side of the shippers. Counsel opposed to the railroads seem confident of a decision in their favor. The arguments will be concluded tomorrow.

THE RAILROAD SIDE.

After reviewing the history of the case, and asserting that the right to precool and preheat was granted at first "as a special grace of favor," Lathrop argued that the commission itself had admitted that it had pre-cooled cars was confiscatory. It was not, he said, but properly speaking, refrigeration that was furnished by the railroad and the carrier was entitled to furnish that exclusively as a part of the transportation service.

The crux of the case, he said, was whether the initial precooling was refrigeration. Describing the system of precooling the fruit and loading it in the car, Lathrop exclaimed dramatically:

"If they insist on loading into the bunkers in our car, their ice and thereby preventing us from performing a service which the law says we must be prepared to perform at all times."

OWNERSHIP OF AIR.

The line of distinction you make," said the Chief Justice, "is that you claim the right to do what you wish with your own property. Where does this cold air come from that you say they put in the car? It isn't your air is it?"

"We don't deny their right to use the air in the car," replied Lathrop. "Was it necessary to reduce the temperature of the car to that of the precooling plant?" asked Associate Justice McKenna.

Lathrop said that it was, but he insisted that his position was an old one. It was only after the loading was completed that he objected to the act of the shipper in refrigerating the car.

The Chief Justice said that, as he understood it, the cool oranges could not be put into a warm car. "The cooling of the car is one act, and both the lower bodies say it is a proper act, and I understand that you are complaining of it."

CARRIER'S DUTY.

Lathrop said this statement was correct. But, he insisted, to keep the car cool after it was loaded was no obligation, which was the duty of the carrier exclusively. He maintained that act of Congress required the carrier to perform all services connected with transportation, including refrigeration, and he argued that "all" included precooling.

Justice McKenna asked if the ice in the bunkers would be sufficient with precooling to refrigerate the oranges. Lathrop said it would not, without reicing en route. The Chief Justice and members of the court asked a number of questions, indicating that they found difficulty in getting the attorney's point of view and intimating strongly that they did not fully agree.

PRECooling BEST.

Attorney Estelina, for the government, said he rested his case on the main propositions, one that the department of Agriculture and the Interstate Commerce Commission had found the precooling system preferable to any other and the other that the companies were making more money under this system than under any other system of refrigeration.

He said that if the shipper could furnish the ice just as well and as cheaply as the carrier, it might be the right to do so, but that the question did not arise, "was the precooling of the car by the shipper a proper act, and I understand that you are complaining of it."

The Changing Age

Girls and boys from 14 to 19 years of age undergo physical changes which tax their strength to the utmost and the strain is always apparent from pale cheeks, colorless lips, and tired bodies—sometimes eruptions of the skin and the utter lack of the ambition and animation which their younger years were filled.

Budding into womanhood and manhood, with the duties of school or business, demands concentrated nourishment which is ready convertible into red blood corpuscles, energy and strength, and the very best thing for this changing age is the medical nutriment in Scott's Emulsion—it possesses the rare blood-making properties of cod liver oil in a palatable form; hypophosphites for the nervous system, with the healing, soothing qualities of pure glycerine.

Its nourishing force promotes assimilation, yields direct returns in abundant red blood, fills hollow cheeks, tones the nerves, makes all good food do good, and does it in a natural easy manner.

The sustaining nutriment in Scott's Emulsion is so helpful to this changing age that it should never be neglected—every druggist has it.

DEFINES RIGHT OF RAILROADS

Adamson Brings Foster Case

One Requires Adversity

Another Aims Issue of S

(BY A. P. WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The case of the railroads in the precooling case was opened this afternoon before the Supreme Court by Gardiner Lathrop for the shippers.

He was followed by Blackman Estelina for the government, and W. E. Lamb for the fruit growers. The hours was the entire time allotted by the court for the oral arguments, which will be concluded at tomorrow's session.

If the tenor of questions asked by members of the court can be taken as any indication of its sentiment, the court leans to the side of the shippers. Counsel opposed to the railroads seem confident of a decision in their favor. The arguments will be concluded tomorrow.

THE RAILROAD SIDE.

After reviewing the history of the case, and asserting that the right to precool and preheat was granted at first "as a special grace of favor," Lathrop argued that the commission itself had admitted that it had pre-cooled cars was confiscatory. It was not, he said, but properly speaking, refrigeration that was furnished by the railroad and the carrier was entitled to furnish that exclusively as a part of the transportation service.

The crux of the case, he said, was whether the initial precooling was refrigeration. Describing the system of precooling the fruit and loading it in the car, Lathrop exclaimed dramatically:

"If they insist on loading into the bunkers in our car, their ice and thereby preventing us from performing a service which the law says we must be prepared to perform at all times."

OWNERSHIP OF AIR.

The line of distinction you make," said the Chief Justice, "is that you claim the right to do what you wish with your own property. Where does this cold air come from that you say they put in the car? It isn't your air is it?"

"We don't deny their right to use the air in the car," replied Lathrop. "Was it necessary to reduce the temperature of the car to that of the precooling plant?" asked Associate Justice McKenna.

Lathrop said that it was, but he insisted that his position was an old one. It was only after the loading was completed that he objected to the act of the shipper in refrigerating the car.

The Chief Justice said that, as he understood it, the cool oranges could not be put into a warm car. "The cooling of the car is one act, and both the lower bodies say it is a proper act, and I understand that you are complaining of it."

CARRIER'S DUTY.

Lathrop said this statement was correct. But, he insisted, to keep the car cool after it was loaded was no obligation, which was the duty of the carrier exclusively. He maintained that act of Congress required the carrier to perform all services connected with transportation, including refrigeration, and he argued that "all" included precooling.

Justice McKenna asked if the ice in the bunkers would be sufficient with precooling to refrigerate the oranges. Lathrop said it would not, without reicing en route. The Chief Justice and members of the court asked a number of questions, indicating that they found difficulty in getting the attorney's point of view and intimating strongly that they did not fully agree.

PRECooling BEST.

Attorney Estelina, for the government, said he rested his case on the main propositions, one that the department of Agriculture and the Interstate Commerce Commission had found the precooling system preferable to any other and the other that the companies were making more money under this system than under any other system of refrigeration.

Business Men Volunteer for Special Duty.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 1.—An appeal from team owners who had signed the union control, their players be permitted to return to work, was voted down late today at a general meeting of the Teamsters' and Chauffeurs' Union, which went into effect last night.

Thomas J. Farrell, general organizer for the union, said none of the would take up their teams until the employers of 1913 teamsters signed the agreement. Teamsters, employing about 350 men, agreed to the union's demands.

The first day of the strike was abated by many minor disorders which were quelled by the police, but the four girls, members of the Garment Workers' Union, were arrested during the day and tonight. The girls were released on bail bonds, but the men were held $1000 bonds.

No garbages was collected in the city today.

Many business men volunteered as special police this afternoon, but were told their services were not needed. Several hundred business men already have been sworn in as reserve force.

MAYOR HEADS POLICE.

Mayor Wallace established headquarters at the Police Station early this morning and said he would take personal charge of the police department until the strike of the teamsters and chauffeurs, which began at midnight last night, is settled. He said he had 160 mounted policemen and 400 patrolmen, and expected to be able to handle the situation without assistance from the State.

In addition to the extra police, more than 350 citizens who were sworn in last night as a special reserve force, awaited an emergency call at Tomlinson Hall.

Teamsters and their friends harassed drivers who ventured out with teams and a large number of arrests were made. In several instances groups were stopped and while some of the strikers argued with the driver, others unchained the horses before a police could arrive.

PRINCE ALBERT (Baskotha) Dec. 1.—Children Oks Simmen, aged 13 years, was today convicted of murdering her playmate, a girl named Julia, on the afternoon of June 21, last. The jury was only one hour.

The girl told the court that she and her companion left home to gather roots used for medical purposes.

While walking across a field, the girl picked up a dead snake and struck her across the face with it. This made the girl angry and she knocked the other down with a shovel.

The girl was not sentenced.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 1.—President Huerta gave the people of the capital a thrill today by another of his periodic disappearances. For many hours no trace of him could be found, but he returned this afternoon to the National Palace, saying he had been visiting a farm near by.

Early in the day it was reported that the President had left the capital and was on his way to Vera Cruz. Railroad officials claimed to have knowledge of Gen. Huerta's departure on a special train.

Three weeks ago, when President Huerta's special representative, John Lind, sent a final message to Gen. Huerta setting forth certain demands by the United States, the provisional President could not be found and was reported that he had fled from the capital. Gen. Huerta, however, had merely gone to Tlalpam, a suburb, and returned the following day.

Rear-Admiral Sir Christopher Cradock, commanding the British cruiser in Mexican waters, spent most of the day at the British legation. He did not call on President Huerta, but said he expected to do so before he returned to Vera Cruz.

A resolution was introduced in the Chamber of Deputies today that the Department of Finance be instructed to pay to Congressmen any salary other than that due to them as Congressmen. If the resolution is adopted, it will cut the salaries of many hundreds of thousands of pesos annually.

The action was prompted by the fact that the Constitution forbids a member of Congress from drawing any other salary from the government while he is in Congress.

The Government Victorious by a Narrow Margin in Its Test of Strength in Chamber of Deputies.

(BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.)

PARIS, Dec. 1.—The Government was victorious by a narrow margin today in its first great trial of strength with the opposition in the Chamber of Deputies on the question of the new loan of $250,000,000 to cover the budget deficit.

The loan was approved by a vote of 291 to 278. On November 29, the Government had refused to accept the procedure suggested by the opposition, made the loan a question of confidence.

Leaders of the opposition, after a vote today, said they would return to the attack in British Columbia. The general opinion, however, is that the ministry will win again.

VANCOUVER (B. C.) Dec. 1.—H. H. Stevens, Vancouver's Parliamentary representative, returned from Ottawa today with the announcement that the Federal government was considering legislation to deal with the Hindu question in British Columbia.

Hindus had been barred from Canada under a regulation requiring them to travel by direct steamer from India, there being, until a few months ago, no such service in the Pacific.

Now, however, certain steamers make the direct voyage and Hindus are in consequence entering the province in increasing numbers.

It is understood that legislation to stop the influx is contemplated.

LET BOOZE ALONE.

Age Advice of John L. Sullivan, Who Agrees on Full Effect of John Barleycorn.

[Chicago Inter Column.] Twenty years ago any word from John L. Sullivan, then the greatest prize fighter, would have been hearkened to eagerly throughout the length and breadth of the land. Then his talk would probably have been of things pugilistic, a breathing of defiance to all mortal men, a discourse of fights, fighters, and fighting—if he had talked at all, for he never was much of a talker.

But increasing age has brought a broader viewpoint. It is no longer the fire-eating "John L." of other days. The once supreme pugilist has learned through bitter experience of the process of John Barleycorn and the evils of self-indulgence.

John is domestic now. Having no children of his own, he has adopted a son, a lad of 10 years, whom he is rearing on his farm near Boston. In the quietness of the domestic life, the old champion has found the remedies to be applied, the ancient battle told of his advice to this boy:

"If you want to make good in this world, let the booze alone; let women alone until you feel like you want to get married; work hard at the job you're on, no matter what it is; don't get the fool notion in your head that you ought to go to college and keep out of politics."

The advice from the man of action turned sage would do any youngster good. "John L." doesn't think much of colleges, wherein he is wrong, but he is right when he tells the lad not to get the notion that he "ought to go to college." It is more important to do what falls to hand in life well than to go to college, and although a good education is an excellent thing, and the colleges have done much good, it is better for the average man to "work hard on the job that he's on," that is, to be a good handicraftsman, than to wish for the impossible.

For the rest, the advice is above criticism, and, coming from one who has had all the experiences he warns against, is doubly valuable.

Paul's Personal Appearance.

[Christian Herald.] All that we know of Paul's personal appearance from his own writings is found in 1 Corinthians 10:10, which indicates that he did not possess the advantage of a distinguished or imposing presence. His stature was somewhat diminutive, his weight weak (see acts 2:15; and Gal. 4:15), nor did he regard his address as impressive. Much of this personal criticism, however, may have been the outcome of the apostle's desire to avoid magnifying himself or his own talents.

A fourth century tablet represents him as venerable-looking and dignified, with a high, bald forehead, full bearded and with features indicating force of character. One ancient writer says Paul's nose was strongly aquiline. The early pictures and mosaics, as well as some of the early writers among them Malalas and Nicephorus, agree in describing the apostle as of short stature, with long face, prominent eyebrows, clear complexion and a winning expression, the whole aspect being that of power and dignity. The oldest known portrait is the Roman panel of the fourth century, already referred to above.

Street Cleaning in New York.

[Engineering Record.] An idea of the comprehensive organization needed to care for the cleaning of New York City streets is shown by the report for 1912 of the Commissioner of Street Cleaning. The authority of his department extends to Manhattan, the Bronx and Brooklyn.

To clean this area 2974 sweepers (Manhattan, 1788; the Bronx, 28; Brooklyn, 558) were employed, making the average $85 square yards per sweeper for all three boroughs or, singly, Manhattan, 1513; the Bronx, 13.07; and Brooklyn, 15,029. The gutter area, which is infrequently cleaned, he deducted, the total average for Brooklyn becomes 1472 square yards.

The mechanical apparatus includes ninety-five sprinkling carts, 148 men, 148 brooms, five flushing machines and nine squeegees. The water cleaning plant is altogether too small, the commissioner estimates, requiring the assistance of hose flushing, a method proved ineffective and wasteful in 1910.

A Religious Clinic.

[Baltimore American.] "I had that bad a pain in me chest that I could scarcely breathe," said the convert who was testifying to the power of saving grace. "My heart and lungs was just about played out," said his successor, while the former, who his back and liver had seemed hopelessly damaged when he espoused the faith.

"I say," whispered the medical student to his friend, the city missionary, "what is this anyhow? A religious meeting or a clinic?"

"It is primarily a religious service," the missionary, "but those fellows will interpret their spiritual experiences with an account of the physical life that beset them at the time of conversion."

"There is no way on earth to stop them. I have tried it, but the minute I call a halt on their medical course they try to get out of their spiritual development. On stormy nights when the fellows gathered here best realize how much they have to be thankful for the record of their past aches and pains can beat any clinic in the town."

Unlimited Picture Machine.

[Chicago Tribune.] Prof. Crans has lately submitted to the German Physical Society a machine which allows the taking of pictures at the rate of 100,000 a second. This enormous limit is higher than anything which has been previously done. Machines are on the market which allow pictures taken at the rate of 5000 a second.

Prof. Crans goes so far as to say that this limit is not fixed, but that the number can be greatly increased if it is found necessary.

"My heart and lungs was just about played out," said his successor, while the former, who his back and liver had seemed hopelessly damaged when he espoused the faith.

"I say," whispered the medical student to his friend, the city missionary, "what is this anyhow? A religious meeting or a clinic?"

"It is primarily a religious service," the missionary, "but those fellows will interpret their spiritual experiences with an account of the physical life that beset them at the time of conversion."

"There is no way on earth to stop them. I have tried it, but the minute I call a halt on their medical course they try to get out of their spiritual development. On stormy nights when the fellows gathered here best realize how much they have to be thankful for the record of their past aches and pains can beat any clinic in the town."

Unlimited Picture Machine.

[Chicago Tribune.] Prof. Crans has lately submitted to the German Physical Society a machine which allows the taking of pictures at the rate of 100,000 a second. This enormous limit is higher than anything which has been previously done. Machines are on the market which allow pictures taken at the rate of 5000 a second.

Prof. Crans goes so far as to say that this limit is not fixed, but that the number can be greatly increased if it is found necessary.

LET BOOZE ALONE.

Age Advice of John L. Sullivan, Who Agrees on Full Effect of John Barleycorn.

[Chicago Inter Column.] Twenty years ago any word from John L. Sullivan, then the greatest prize fighter, would have been hearkened to eagerly throughout the length and breadth of the land. Then his talk would probably have been of things pugilistic, a breathing of defiance to all mortal men, a discourse of fights, fighters, and fighting—if he had talked at all, for he never was much of a talker.

But increasing age has brought a broader viewpoint. It is no longer the fire-eating "John L." of other days. The once supreme pugilist has learned through bitter experience of the process of John Barleycorn and the evils of self-indulgence.

John is domestic now. Having no children of his own, he has adopted a son, a lad of 10 years, whom he is rearing on his farm near Boston. In the quietness of the domestic life, the old champion has found the remedies to be applied, the ancient battle told of his advice to this boy:

"If you want to make good in this world, let the booze alone; let women alone until you feel like you want to get married; work hard at the job you're on, no matter what it is; don't get the fool notion in your head that you ought to go to college and keep out of politics."

The advice from the man of action turned sage would do any youngster good. "John L." doesn't think much of colleges, wherein he is wrong, but he is right when he tells the lad not to get the notion that he "ought to go to college." It is more important to do what falls to hand in life well than to go to college, and although a good education is an excellent thing, and the colleges have done much good, it is better for the average man to "work hard on the job that he's on," that is, to be a good handicraftsman, than to wish for the impossible.

For the rest, the advice is above criticism, and Ballard of No. 255 Avenue 23, against an usher at Temple Baptist Church who kept her waiting until after he had admitted others, who, according to his assertion, had paid for their seats, caused Rev. John Bentzien, assistant pastor, to issue an explanation of the church's methods yesterday.

The identity of the usher who refused to admit Mrs. Ballard promptly is unknown to Mr. Bentzien. The assistant pastor said that the usher misrepresented the exact situation of the church.

"The seats in the boxes and loges are reserved for persons who pay for them," Mr. Bentzien said. "The other 1000 seats in the auditorium are free. The money derived from the sale of the 200 seats is needed for the support of the church."

"Mrs. Ballard and also others have taken exception to the chain across the entrance and our refusal to open the doors two or three hours before the services begin. Persons who have been accustomed to attending small churches cannot understand how difficult it is to handle the great crowds who attend our church. The rush is so great that frequently we have to appeal to the police for assistance."

"If we opened the doors and did not regulate the crowds there would be no seats left for our Sunday-school scholars and teachers. We feel that these faithful ones should be taken care of and at the Sunday-morning service seats are reserved for them."

Long Beach is liable in court actions for damages sought by reason of the collapse of the pier approach on Empire Day, a catastrophe which brought thirty-nine deaths and injuries to approximately 150 persons. This vital ruling was made by the Superior Court yesterday and attorneys interested in the matter say it may cost the seaside city a million dollars. Suits aggregating $300,000 have already been filed, and many were held in abeyance by attorneys pending argument and decision of case. Long Beach disclaimed municipal liability under the opinion of a special counsel. The suit of J. Chaffor for $15,500 was the action tested in Judge Jackson's court yesterday on a demurrer, and it resulted in the court holding that the pier is a private enterprise and that the city is liable in actions. Long & Hoopesville, argued for Long Beach that the municipality operated the pier in its exercise of governmental function and therefore was not liable. Attorney Alderson cited many authorities to show that the pier was a private and proprietary enterprise, and that the city is liable. Owing to the issues dependent on the determination of the demurrer, the argument pro and con was hard fought, victory perching on the shoulder of Alderson. The suits will be tried by jury as soon as they can be reached. In Judge Shenk's court a demurrer was argued to the $70,000 damage suit of M. A. and Kate B. Pack against the City of Long Beach and overruled, the court holding the complaint stated a sufficient cause of action.

"I came out from the East with President Ripley of the Santa Fe," he said, "and though I am not as pessimistic as he is on the railroad outlook, I have to admit that it is bad. Regarding business, Vanderlip pleaded for less of impatience. "There is a certain lack of confidence apparent in all circles, a sort of waiting for the skies to clear," said Vanderlip, "but a country with our material resources, with much raw wealth lying unused, cannot have aught but a golden future."

NORTON LIFTS SELF OUT OF WAY OF GOOD ROADS.

SUPERVISOR NORTON receded from his previous position of refusing to vote with the other Supervisors yesterday on the question of donating free rock and oil to road districts which agree to do their own construction work. He produced a third reason for his former opposition, at the same time.

In all there are fifteen districts which were voted free rock and oil from the county supply. Chairman Priddy explained for the benefit of the persons in the room that it has been the custom of the Supervisors for several years to supply free rock and oil to sections that agree to do the road work. He said the county has saved $250,000 by his plan and that all who use the highways appreciate the fact that the county cannot run its concrete roads every year on account of lack of funds. He said that the giving of rock and oil has to be the unanimous consent of all five Supervisors. The names of the different sections were then read over and Norton voted "aye" with the rest.

"I wish to make an explanation," said Norton. "I still believe in some cases that these districts will not put up the best kind of roads. I believe concrete is better."

"I shall ask Highway Engineer Joyner to submit a report on this road-making. I will vote with the rest at this time with the understanding that we have Engineer Joyner explain whether the macadam roads will be a good addition to our highway system."

Thus ends a dispute which has extended over a period of many weeks. Norton first refused to vote with the other members in order to get even, as he said, with them for turning him down on some of his pet schemes. The next time he said it was because he was not sure where the money was coming from.

There was no friction yesterday and the proceedings went through with remarkable celerity.

Hands Out to Coming 'Bos. But There's a Night Stick in Each of 'Em.

Twenty-five New Policemen to Greet Tramps.

Warm Reception Even if Not a Cordial One.

To make more perfect the receiving line of uniformed men and to insure a more fitting reception for the army of tramped visitors now arriving on the streets, the city council yesterday made a way for the increase of the police force by twenty-five men.

Chief of Police Sebastian sent a letter to the Police Commission calling attention to the fact that the receiving line, owing to lack of sufficient numbers on the Reception Committee, and asked that the holes be plugged with new men. The letter was shot from the commission, with the usual approval, to the City Council, where more approval was added, and it was referred to the Finance Committee, which is expected to recommend the employment today.

The chief points to a long list of hold-ups, and burglaries which come suspiciously close upon the heels of our new arrivals. He says that with twenty-five more men he will be better able to control the situation, which for the next ninety days will be acute. His letter follows:

"The advertising of Los Angeles as a city where work is easily obtained has resulted in people coming here than can secure employment. Poor crops and unsettled financial conditions in other parts of the country have also resulted in bringing large numbers of people here who are also unemployed. These, together with the usual number of hold-ups and tourists who seek no employment, make a large number of people among us who are not employed, but who must live by some means or other. When whatever funds they may have brought with them are exhausted, as most of them soon are, they are bound to turn to some means to secure food. What the recourse usually is, is shown by the unusual number of hold-ups and robberies we are now having. I am attempting to prevent this condition of affairs by working every available member of the police force to the best advantage but have not enough men at my disposal to control the situation.

"The next ninety days will be the most critical period, I think, and more men should be provided for that length of time at least. Through leaves of absence without pay and in other ways an unexpended balance has accumulated in the salary fund of this department. The amount would be sufficient to pay twenty-five men at salary of $18 a month for a period of ninety days, and I recommend that the City Council be asked to authorize me to do so. I propose hiring men from the regular Civil Service eligible list so far as possible.

STORK ASSISTS OFFICIAL.

Delivers Woe Wayfarer at Home of School Department's Trustee Official—All's Well.

"Hist, kids, pipe do hooky man! Beat it!"

That's what small boys on tramping bent, are wont to say, as they scatter like chaff before Earl Hitchcock's eagle eye. Hitchcock is trustee official for the school department. But there's a woe girl tramping in Los Angeles who isn't afraid of being rounded up. In fact she "put one over" on him, and strayed right into Hitchcock's trap at No. 1324 West Twenty-third street, and came herself at home. She spoke a foreign tongue, which Mrs. Hitchcock, the only one who understood the language, interpreted as meaning that she had come a long journey, and needed rest and care. She will be given the best of both.

Her name is Elisabeth, and she says all the cherubs are all well, thank you!

TO HELP BEAUTIFY CITY.

"City Garden Soldiers" of Public Schools Will Aid for Exposition Year.

A city beautiful and a city clean is the slogan of the little "City Garden Soldiers" of the public schools, who are to aid in beautifying Los Angeles in 1919.

A button is being designed by the children, under the direction of the drawing department, and the most attractive one submitted will be chosen. This button, which will be for sale, will be ornamented with a spray of poppies and have the words "City Garden Soldiers" and "We Conquer the Earth" embossed on it. Clubs are being formed in the various schools with captains and recruiting officers. The soldiers are on probation at first, and will belong to the "awful squad." If they show no interest in the work, they will be dropped.

DEPENDS ON THE VOICES.

Burr Harris Tells Officers He Might Kill Again If He Heard Them—He's in Prison.

"I might kill somebody else if I heard voices," was the declaration of Burr Harris, murderer of Mrs. Rebecca D. Gray, on his way to prison in charge of Under Sheriff Brain and Deputy Cochran. The latter, upon his return here yesterday, said that Harris was a model prisoner on board the train.

"He was quiet and very self-restrained," said the veteran Deputy Sheriff. "I told him that it certainly would never do for him to be at large. He replied that if he heard the voices he might commit murder at any time."

Harris is sentenced to be hanged February 11 unless relieved through successful appeal of his case or through the action of the Governor.

Vanderlip on Currency

have to be hauled 3000 miles across the continent, but will be landed from the sea at your doors."

While on this subject Vanderlip spoke of the fifteen miles of seawater that he had acquired with the Palos Verdes Ranch.

"I don't know what I will do with the view of the land," he said. "I believe I got a bargain though. At any rate I got plenty of land and hills, for I have been riding over them the past two days on a cayuse."

All this last about railroad business and the future was in Vanderlip's felicitous formal speech, for, as he said: "We should clean up the currency question while we were eating."

As the foremost of the country's many opponents of the Wilson currency legislation and with a number of bankers at the table, it was inevitable that the talk should gravitate to the political question of the hour. Able, affable and analytical, Vanderlip early met all questions. He even welcomed conversational questions with a seeming eagerness to give and take in the interest of a clarity of understanding.

"I am opposed especially," he said in reply to a certain question, "to a political supreme court of banking. Some don't hold my view. But my idea is that if there must be a supreme court of banking to appoint the members of the Federal Reserve Board, it should be made up of men who will be above politics and we won't have Democrats when the Democrats are in and Republicans when they are out, but will be apt to get men who will build wisely in terms of years to make a solid banking structure. In other words, they will not veer with the wind."

"But a fault with the modified Owen-Glass bill that is startling is that nowhere can you find a place where a gold reserve fund is made imperative. It is a strange omission, considering the currency history of the world. It is like building a house on the sands."

Now, understand, I think currency legislation is needed, that great good can be done. But I do not think that the present bill is conceived in the right spirit. The people want something done to eliminate the hard, fast channels of money-movement, and they are levelheaded in this desire. But they have the right instincts to work out their eminently clear desire to do something to make matters better."

Vanderlip further stated that banking institutions are delicately adjusted machines and that the functions of credit and of money from "easy" to "tight" are phenomena that are even imperfectly understood by many bankers.

"Of course, the Democrats are committed to currency legislation," he said, "and are working with all instruments at hand. It is their job and they have a right to do it as they think best, but it seems to me that so many of them might well be their watchwords."

President Kinney of the Chamber of Commerce introduced Vanderlip. Following his talk, Kinney successfully introduced Vice-President Jess of the First National Bank, President Barton of the Security Savings and Trust Company, who is a member of the Currency Commission of the American Bankers Association, and President Fishburn of the National Bank of California. All three congratulated Vanderlip on his Palos Verdes purchase, welcoming him as a newcomer, and as the foremost advocate of "better currency legislation."

MYST FRIEND'S NOSE.

The Nose Belonged to a Very Good Little Boy and the Teeth to a Very Naughty Little Dog.

Truman and Michael are playmates and friends. Both live with the family of Liart P. Johnston at No. 711 Crescent drive, Beverly Hills. Truman is a very good little boy, Michael a very naughty little dog. Michael, whose teeth are very white and very sharp, bit Truman Sunday night, on a pugy little nose. Truman went to the Receiving Hospital.

Now biting a fellow on the nose, according to Master Truman Johnston, is a mighty poor way of showing gratitude. Not that the boy's love for his dog has one whit diminished, but he argues that it is a kind of a shock to have one's best friend repay kindness in that fashion. On the whole, after his nose had been bandaged, Michael cheerfully, the Receiving Hospital nurse, he almost decided in his own mind that the whole thing was an accident.

It all came about through Michael's naughtiness and his subsequent punishment. He started the dog badly, in the first place. He romped about the house yesterday, getting in everywhere, and ended by tearing a hole in the family of Liart P. Johnston. This indiscretion brought about the merited punishment. Michael was locked in a dark room and kept there two hours.

Truman was not in hearty accord, it appears, with the punishment. He sneaked off to the "dungeon" and softly opened the door just enough to peep in at the prisoner. He knew and stuck his head in. There was a sudden spring, a yelp of excitement and pleasure mingled with a suppressed howl, and Michael was back in the inquisitive little nose.

STEALS HOTEL CARPET.

New Species of Thief Engages Attention of the Police—According to Thumbprint Remains.

A new limit in thievery was set yesterday. A man stole the carpet off his hotel room floor. He came to the Brownstone Hotel, No. 417 East Fifth street, Sunday night and sought lodging with a room of $18 bill. He accomplished his wish.

After scratching his name on the register he went to room, turned the silence he desired came, he ripped the carpet off the floor, rolled it up and walked away with it. As he passed the registered heretofore name off. But the dust from the carpet clung to his thumb, and the thumb impression and the paper clue to the man's identity is in the files of the police station.

COURTESY TO THE CHIEF.

"I shall not issue complaints charging any policeman with contributing to the delinquency of Nettie Christie," said Police Commissioner McCarty yesterday. The deputy, who has charge of all cases prosecuted in the juvenile court, will make personal inquiry into the matter. He does not think a grand jury investigation necessary, as all the alleged facts can be easily proved. The case is a preliminary examination, such as are commonly held in the juvenile cases where contributing is charged.

CAUGHT HIDING BEHIND A BED.

Portuguese Who's Wanted for Murder Arrested.

Accused of Slaying Woman in Mission Apartments.

Cabral Flourishes Revolver in San Diego.

Manuel Francis Cabral, who has been sought by the police of this and other cities for the murder on October 23, last, of Mrs. Harriet Vorndam, was arrested at the Trov Hotel there together with Mrs. Vorndam about two months ago. A short time before the murder he is said to have given the woman $25 with which she was to secure a child in Oregon and then went to San Diego to have been living in the Mission Apartments.

Cabral was found in a bedroom, crouching in a corner behind the bed, which had been pulled crosswise from the wall. He had a revolver in his hand, and as the officers seized him he turned the weapon on himself. Meyers, with a spring, however, succeeded in grasping the hammer of the weapon, which caught him between the thumb and first finger.

ASSERTS HIS INNOCENCE.

Cabral's explanation of his apparent attempt at suicide was that he could not contemplate the disgrace which the scandal of a trial would bring upon his children. He maintained his innocence of the crime charged against him, and declared that he had been in San Diego for all the time since the murder was committed, fishing from this port and making three or four trips to this city and took no particular pains to conceal his identity.

Cabral arrived at San Diego on the night of Thanksgiving Day, going by a fishing boat from San Pedro, and went directly to the house where he was arrested yesterday. He asserts that so soon as he is returned to his home he will be able to establish proof of his innocence.

Cabral's account of his actions on the night of the murder, as he related it to the San Diego police, is that he last saw Mrs. Vorndam alive about 8 o'clock on the night of October 23. She was in her room, and he was in the hall. He saw a messenger several times during the evening, he says, to see whether she had returned.

At 8 o'clock in the morning he went to the room in the Mission Apartments, where he found the dead body of the woman. He sat there until 6 o'clock, when he hired an automobile to take him to San Pedro, where, he asserts, he remained until last Thursday.

HAD BEEN ON PAROLE.

Cabral had been on parole at San Diego, having been arrested at the Trov Hotel there together with Mrs. Vorndam about two months ago. A short time before the murder he is said to have given the woman $25 with which she was to secure a child in Oregon and then went to San Diego to have been living in the Mission Apartments.

ASKS OFFICIAL HEAD OF EVANS.

District Attorney Files His Legal Opinion.

"Civil Service Chairman Is Ineligible to Office."

Letters Show Activity as a Political Executive.

In order to bring to a focus the eligibility of David Evans to legally hold the position of chairman of the Civil Service Commission, Dist. Atty. Fredericks filed his opinion with the Board of Supervisors yesterday afternoon. The main contention is that, inasmuch as Evans was a member of a political organization as an executive officer within one year of his appointment to his present position, he is performing acts without any legal basis.

Capt. Fredericks made no comment upon his communication, but, filing it with the clerk of the board, left the record open for motion of Supervisor Butler, seconded by Supervisor Norton, a copy of the charges of ineligibility will be given Chairman Evans and a time will be fixed at which he can be heard. Evans declined to make a statement last night.

The vote of four of the five members of the Board of Supervisors is necessary to oust an appointee. If it be shown to the satisfaction of the board that Evans's appointment violates the charter, it appears that there is only one course open—to remove him as being illegally appointed.

THE OPINION.

Capt. Fredericks's communication follows, in part: Nov. 24, 1918. To the Honorable Board of Supervisors, Los Angeles County, Los Angeles, Cal.

Enclosed are certain facts have been laid before this office respecting the qualifications of David Evans as a member of the Civil Service Commission of this county. These facts are herewith submitted, together with the law applicable thereto.

Section 30, Article IX of the charter of Los Angeles county provides as follows:

"On or before the first day of July, 1918, the Board of Supervisors shall appoint three persons as members of the Civil Service Commission, who shall serve until the first Monday in December, 1918, at noon; one until the first Monday in December, 1919, at noon, and one until the first Monday in December, 1920, at noon. The Board of Supervisors shall appoint one person as the successor of the member of the commission whose term shall expire, to serve for six years. Any vacancy on the commission shall be filled by the Board of Supervisors for the unexpired term. Each member of the commission shall serve until his successor is appointed and qualified. Not more than one member shall be an adherent of the same political party. He member shall hold any other salaried county office, nor shall he have, within the year next preceding his appointment, an active executive office in any political organization. Each member shall have been a resident of the county for the five years next preceding his appointment, and his name shall be upon the State and county assessment rolls at the time thereof."

"POLITICAL EXECUTIVE."

The facts affecting Mr. Evans's qualifications as a civil service commissioner with respect to the foregoing section of the charter are these:

First—David Evans is a member of the Democratic County Central Committee. He has been an active member of that committee for some time, particularly within the year prior to his appointment as civil service commissioner in June 1918. During the recent Presidential campaign, which was within the year prior to his appointment as civil service commissioner, Evans was especially active in the execution of the work of the committee as a member thereof. These facts are known and can be shown by the president, secretary and other members of the County Central Committee.

This fact is further shown by a copy of the minutes of a meeting of the Democratic County Central Committee, held on April 28, 1918. It will be noted that the date of this meeting is about two months prior to his appointment as a member of the Civil Service Commission. These minutes are now in possession of John P. Steele, secretary of the Democratic County Central Committee.

Second—David Evans also is a member of the Finance Committee of the Democratic County Central Committee. This fact can be shown by the testimony of John P. Steele, the secretary of the Democratic County Central Committee, which number 100, whose names are now in the possession of Secretary John P. Steele.

David Evans was present at and participated in the meetings of said committee, particularly those of September 18 and 25 and October 15, 1918.

This fact can be shown by the testimony of Secretary John P. Steele and the other members of the committee.

This fact is further shown from a letter acknowledging his appointment as a member of said Campaign Committee, wherein he expressed a desire to actively participate in the work of said committee. The original letter is now in the possession of John P. Steele, secretary of the Democratic County Central Committee. (A copy of the letter is attached.)

It will be noted that this letter bears date of September 26, 1918, which is within one year prior to his appointment of the Civil Service Commission, and Mr. Evans's activity in the affairs of this committee was necessarily subsequent to the date of his appointment.

"HAS NOT RESIGNED."

Fourth—Mr. Evans has not resigned from nor has he been released from his membership of any of said committees, and continues to date as an executive officer of the Democratic organization of Los Angeles county. This fact can be shown by H. H. Cotton, chairman of the Democratic County Central Committee, and John P. Steele, secretary of said committee. It will be observed from the foregoing that David Evans was a member of the County Central Committee, the Finance Committee and the Campaign Committee of the Democratic party organization of this county throughout the Presidential campaign of 1918, and actively participated therein, thereby requesting opportunity for further participation in the active work of that organization during that period.

It will be further observed that his activity in the execution of the work of these committees commenced and continued within the year prior to his appointment as a member of the Civil Service Commission.

Inasmuch as all of these transactions occurred within the period of limitations prescribed by the charter, it is apparent that your honorable body, not being apprised of these facts, has, in appointing him as a member of the commission, erroneously designated a person not eligible to appointment, and that his entry and continuance in office as a member of the Civil Service Commission of this county was and is in violation of both the letter and the spirit of the county charter.

HOW TO PROCEED.

Section 30 of Article IX of the charter of Los Angeles county provides, in addition to the portion herebefore quoted, as follows:

"The Board of Supervisors, by a four-fifths vote of all the members, may remove a member of the commission during his term of office, but only upon stating in writing the reasons for such removal and allowing him an opportunity to be publicly heard in his own defense. The commissioner shall elect one of its members president."

It would appear that the provisions of the statute prohibiting a member of this commission from being an "active, executive officer in any political organization" is intended to remove from the board a person who will not be subject to the temptations supposed to surround the plan of removing a member of the board to select men for this matters of appointment. The large majority of the people are not active, executive officers in any political organization, and it appears the intent of the charter that the selection for this office should come from that class.

Respectfully submitted, (Signed) J. D. FREDERICKS, District Attorney.

HAS AN AFFINITY?

While the affianced husband of another woman not named in the complaint, Harrison H. Keene is alleged by Mrs. Buena Vista to have married her at Cleveland, May 28, last. The following July he deserted her and she has not seen him since.

The plan of marrying her, she alleges, was carried out with the idea of obtaining money from her or her father, and later on deserting her and living with the other woman.

On the day that Keene deserted her Mrs. Keene alleges she discovered the representations he had made to her were false, and she asks the court to annul the marriage.

APPROVES OUR CHARITY.

Mrs. Clara D. Baker, who represents the State Board of Control, made a brief talk to the Board of Supervisors yesterday in which she said she found charity work in this county admirably done for the most part. She is making an investigation of local conditions with a view of making a report to the State Board later on. The money for county charities comes partly from the State and partly from the county in which the sick or indigent live.

PREMIER OF "ZAZA" WAS GRAND MUSICAL TREAT.

Leoncavallo Conducted With Fascinating Charm. All-Star Cast Interpreted the New, Modern and Realistic Musical Drama in a Notable Fashion—Magnificent Presentation of "La Tosca" for Tonight.

BY HECTOR ALLIOT.

Leoncavallo's "Zaza," a musical drama in four acts, had its first production in Los Angeles last night, under the direction of the composer.

This would make the event notable enough in itself; the interpretation by a cast of high standing anywhere made last evening the most memorable occurrence in the present operatic season.

For those who are acquainted with "Zaza," the popular French play by Bertin and Simon, it is easy to recognize the main features of that psychological drama in Leoncavallo's libretto.

The love story of a singer for a wealthy frequenter of the green room; their romance in a suburban villa, followed by the frequent rupture of such ephemeral "liaisons," the passion, jealousy of the deceived woman who has discovered that her lover is a married man, and the generosity of the footlight favorite at the end constitute a modern theme of poignant realism that Leoncavallo has preserved in all its glaring verities and beauty of sentiment.

"Zaza" is a frank and powerfully painted picture of a phase of life which the public seldom understands, for its prejudice and ignorance precludes its understanding of the real depth of true sentiment; the actor, however low he may have fallen, may possess.

The musical score is as remarkable as the libretto. It would seem that Leoncavallo, influenced by the subject he was treating, leaned toward the modern French school of operatic composition. His method in "Zaza" suggests in structure, character and Massenet, yet it remains thoroughly original. The exquisite beauty of "Zaza's" music is that it is always helpful to the singing without ever clouding the natural expression of the actor or spending him in delivery.

From the first act to the last the music, like a lovely garland, adorns the actor's performance, and it is impossible without being tedious, diversified without being difficult of understanding.

Carmen Melis appeared in a new role, Zaza, the Chanteuse, which brought out all her clever lyrics and afforded her an unusual opportunity as a prima donna soprano.

In the first act the back of the stage and the dressing-room of the artist are shown, with a realism almost startling for those who do not know that the life, customs and habits are different in that realm of the stage wherein outsiders rarely enter.

Fanny Antina, the beautiful Mexican contralto, was cast for a part very difficult for her; Anais, the inept mother of Zaza. Her excellent and comical make-up, and her fine acting attracted far more attention than the part warrants; Cecchetti was Floriano, the concert singer.

Luca Botta sang admirably the part of Millio Dufrene, a young, though important, is not heavy, but is replete with delightful arias.

Chacart, actor, friend and lover of Zaza, was the most important male role, which was done in a commendable manner by Montasanto, the baritone.

Edith Mackie, Arnes Slevens, Brill, Carpio, Rogers, Hughes and Navarro appeared creditably in the secondary roles.

Toto, the daughter of Dufrene, is the personage around whom the drama is conducted. It is Toto, a little child, who tells without knowing it the whole truth about her father's domestic life. She is a charmingly played by a little girl of this city, Aida, Marcelli.

Poly High's Benefit.

girls have entered into the spirit of the dances and in many numbers their grace and beauty rival professional work.

Opening with an intricate march in which the members of both classes take part, the programme will include a dance descriptive of the farewell of a Russian bride, a Spanish dance, the dance of the jumping jacks, a jingle bell march and dance, a topey-turvy dance, the frolic of the forest nymphs, and a Greek dance.

The dance of the Russian bride, and the jumping jacks' dance will be interpreted by Melba Zeller, Eunice Secor, Gladys Wilhoite, Mildred Arenz, Mary Clark, Irene Connel, Agnes Garrett, Cecile Heya, Gladys Hoyt, Maude Kester, Gladys Murphy, Rosie Normandie, Velma Pierson, Testa Tipton and Hortense Vignes.

The jumping jacks are sprightly misses and their dance with hand-springs will be extremely unique.

The Spanish dance and the Greek interpretations will be given by Helen McArthur, Elsa Balsinger, Yvette Gilmore, Junette Gilmore, Esther Prince, Marjorie Dole, Gertrude Clark, Pearl Lillibridge, Alma Johnson, Florence A. Eales, Isabel Hillie, Irene Schlosberg, Maude Higgins, Helen Porter and Helen Rader.

The single bells and topey-turvy dances are to be given by the girls of the ninth grade, Pauline Farrell, Helen Keller, Irene Kishner, Mattie Leland, Mary Louise Williams, Phoebe Roberts, Augusta Ashery, Florence Rawlins, Elsie Spencer, Lucille Hoffman, Augustus Bloom, Lucille Hoffman and Lillian Keller.

Eunice Landman, Gladys Sowers and Hortense Vignes will be in charge of the music, which has been especially arranged for each number by Miss Ohman.

The programme will be presented in the forenoon for the pupils of the High School and is to be repeated in the evening at the request of the friends, who are all invited.

STOLEN AUTO WRECKED.

Driven Into a Telephone Pole and Two Men Are Held at Central Station on Suspicion.

A five-passenger Cadillac automobile was completely demolished last night at sixteenth and Figueroa streets, when it was driven against a telephone pole by a party of men the police believe stole it.

Two men, Walter R. Seeley and Paul R. Turner, both painters and living at No. 122 Seventh street, were later arrested at their home and told conflicting stories. At first they said they had rented the car at Seventh and Los Angeles streets, paying $2.50 an hour for it. Their second story was to the effect that two unidentified men riding in the machine had invited them to take a ride, and that after the accident the chauffeur and his friend ran away.

The men are being held at the Central Station. The automobile belonged to R. B. Musser of No. 1917 Morgan place, who reported that it had been stolen last night.

LEROY BURNS DROWNED.

SAN DIEGO, Dec. 1.—Word has been received from Commander Victor Blue of the cruiser Pittsburgh to the effect that Leroy Burns, son of A. S. Burns, No. 1281 West Thirty-seventh place, Los Angeles, had fallen from the vessel's deck and was drowned. The body was not recovered. The accident occurred in Mexican waters.

NEW YOUNGDEER COMPLAINT.

James Youngdeer, a motion-picture manager, who figured extensively during a called "white slave" investigation of the grand jury, was made defendant in a serious statutory offense complaint yesterday. The complaining witness is Carol Mason Burton. Deputy District Attorney Graham issued the complaint.

Lucille Simpson, who is to be in the Police Court today under somewhat unusual circumstances.

Peace Disturber?

HER BEAUX TURN OUT TO BE DETECTIVES.

LUCILLE SIMPSON is somewhat stylish, and she is not old. Her trade is to make other persons look young.

She does it not by coaxing the large complexion. Rather she accomplishes it by setting the face in a ravishing frame. She is a designer-milliner. No—the English language insists on making Lucille misunderstood—she is a designer of millinery.

In the path of her trade, she met up with Pauline Reeves, the keeper of a fashionable millinery house at Sixth and Hill streets. There Lucille Simpson saw the beauty of those who patronized the place.

But business became dull and Lucille was not busy. She was under contract. One morning came, coldness in the greeting from the proprietress, she saw, and the next morning no nod at all. And with the trapped salute came no work.

Lucille called at the place anyway. She sat in the reception-room every morning. When the employer would come Lucille would report for labor.

With her was a man. The man was attentive; he was even eager to protect Lucille. He sat close by her side, and he talked earnestly to her. One day it was a tall man, the next day a short man, and again a blonde, while brunettes would be popular soon.

Pauline Reeves would have none of it, she said. So she hurried to the City Prosecutor and explained that Lucille was unwelcome. She told tales about Lucille entertaining her beaux in the best reception-room in the steller. Foul, it was an scandal! Lucille is something must be done quick!

The City Prosecutor issued a complaint and the court issued a warrant, and a server issued forth for to find the fair Lucille.

But Lucille read about the affair in the paper. She hurried to her counsel, and then hastened to the Police Station yesterday and offered her presence in court.

Police Judge Frederickson will hear the case today. Lucille being accused of disturbing the peace.

But mainly Lucille is accused of entertaining her beaux in the reception-room. Which is quite a rumormongering. Lucille is a woman, Lucille Simpson, and has a son 16 years old, and the men with her at the millinery store were detectives from the Harlequin agency.

But she is stylish and she is not old, and even detectives may be misled under inspiration.

ASSESSMENT VALUES.

Scientific Plan for Arriving at a Basis on City Lots Explained by Expert.

Walter W. Pollock, president of the Manufacturers' Appraisal Company of Cleveland, talked before the Municipal League yesterday afternoon, and with a stereopticon illustrated details of the Somers unit system for equalizing values of real estate for assessment purposes.

The system is founded upon the principle of a unit-foot of land in any given city block. A unit-foot is a strip one foot wide and 100 feet deep in the center of the block, and the first step in arriving at the value of the land in the block is to agree upon the value of a unit-foot on each of the four sides of the block. Then, by a system of percentages, the value of all the other land in the block is fixed by mathematics. The system has all these problems worked out with scientific precision, so that they may be readily applied to conditions in any city. The company does not sell its system, but sells the services of its men to assist assessors in arriving at a just and equitable valuation for purposes of taxation.

For the valuation of corner Somers has worked out a plan whereby he takes a piece of ground 100 feet square and divides it into ten-foot squares of 100 square feet each. Upon these squares he has fixed the value in dollars for every combination of values on streets forming the corner. All that is necessary is to outline the actual lots at and near the corner and add together the values of the small squares inside the actual lot lines, using the table that fits the combination of street values. He starts with the presumption that the most valuable of the 100 small squares is that immediately on the corner, and each small square in every direction from this is worth less, and thus the values shade gradually back to square No. 100 on the furthest corner.

Real estate men, accountants, financial agents and city officials are interested, and a number of them heard Pollock's elucidations. The Efficiency Committee of the Municipal League will probably make a report upon the subject in the near future.

ROAD TO BIG ROCK.

Chairman Priddy of the Board of Supervisors, told his fellow-members yesterday that he will ask for some money later on for the benefit of roads in the Big Rock district, where about fifty families reside.

Priddy stated that it was not advisable to expend a large amount of money, but that the road scraper and a little superficial work will make it much easier for the ranchmen to get to railroad points during the winter rains.

WEDDING IN TACOMA.

William James Alexander, furniture manufacturer of this city, was married in Tacoma to Miss Lillian B. Mathies. The ceremony was performed in the parlors of the First Christian Church there by Rev. W. A. Moore, the pastor. The couple before coming here will take an extended wedding trip to Washington, New York and other cities. Miss Mathies lived in Tacoma since girlhood and possesses a wide circle of friends. For several years she was assistant in a large millinery establishment.

Fourteen carloads of juicy, golden oranges brought $10,000 yesterday at the first orange sale of the California Fruit Auction Company, in the building. Prices ranged from $1.57 1/2 to $2.10 a box.

The first carload offered drew the highest price. It went to Frederick B. Devine for Steinhardt & Kelly of Chicago, at $2.10. The samples looked good to me and so I whooped up the price," said Devine. The Mayor manipulated the gavel in selling this first carload.

traffic returns at first hand, and they grabbed them—for every car bought had a receiver awaiting it in the East.
It was 11 o'clock when the auctioneer took the platform, and stand-may be said to have gone fast. In fact, despite the galling verbal fire of the auctioneer and the poised notebooks and pencils, the oranges went "like hot cakes," with the buying largely in the hands of a few.

The purchasers were S. T. Johnston, six cars, whose bids per box were $1.85, $1.80, $1.65, $1.70, $1.95 and $1.70; C. J. Hicks, five cars, with bids of $1.50, $1.45, $1.37, $1.75

Distributors, P. B. Devlin, and the Superior Fruit Company, one car each, at $1.85, $2.10 and $1.65, respectively. The average was 39¢ boxes to the car. Naval oranges prevailed, with the Tulare district the largest contributor.
Another auction will be held tomorrow, beginning at 10 o'clock, and another Friday. Thereafter, there will be auction each Monday, Wednesday and Friday until the first of the year, when Manager F. H.
Smith promises daily auctions.
"The prices were a little too high,"
said Smith after the sales yesterday.
"That is for us. But it looks pretty good to the grower when prices are boosted this early in the season. No, this orange-auction business is not new. It is as old as the business. But the men behind this company are anxious to see the oranges auctioned here, instead of in Chicago or New York, so that the growers will get their money right on the nail."

BARRIEAU IS STURDY BOXER.

Vancouver Boy Is Built for Endurance.

Didn't Show Very Much in First Workout.

Will Probably Be in Shape Very Soon.

BY DE WITT VAN COURT.
Frank Barrieau, the Vancouver boxer, has started his training out at the Vernon arena. Yesterday he did a little pulley weight work and some shadow boxing, then boxed two rounds each with Babe Picato and Sailor Joe Hill.

His work was of the lightest order as he was three days on the train coming from Vancouver, and is somewhat soft. Traveling on a Pullman car is tiresome and the only way he can pass the time is to eat a lot, which does no fighter any good.

He appeared soft and will not be in good condition for several days, but judging from his looks he will be in excellent condition the day of the contest, which is one week from today.

His boxing did not impress me very much, but his manner, A. G. Halstead, and his trainer, Joe Lewis, said that he boxes better in a contest than during his training.

Barrieau seems to be a very willing boy and to carry a good punch in his left hand. But his right is way off. He hits with the flat of his hand and his blow has no force to it.

He is a sturdy built fellow and has all the earmarks of a boy with a lot of endurance. He has a low body and short legs, and is muscular in build. This is a sign of endurance.

When he has been in training for several days more we will be better able to get a good line on him.

He is a modest fellow and no doubt will make a hit with the fans.

He and his trainer, Joe Lewis, should make a good match, as Bud is not noted for his cleverness and as they are to box in the eighth class, it should be a good match.

Earl Mohan has not been engaged to train Anderson as was advertised several days ago. This is a mistake on Dick Donahue's part.

But to be bunked because you are a fat lady is almost too much for words. So the pink sheet is coming to the rescue of the fair but fat charmers who are now beseeching the Federal grand jury clamoring for re-venge against "God's Masterpiece."

There is only one way to get thin. Those who know this way best are the prize-fight trainers. Of all the prize-fight trainers, Abdul the Turk is the most expert.

Abdul does not claim that "the late King Edward" ever pronounced him to be God's masterpiece, but he knows all about reducing weight.

The Turk is really a wonder in that regard. Give him the day and the hour that you wish to weigh a certain figure and he will have you on the scales at that hour, weighing not an ounce more and not an ounce less.

To such a fine point has weight-reducing been brought by fight trainers, that the articles of agreement which stipulate at exactly what hour the weight of boxers is to be taken, have been made so strict that whether they are to be weighed at noon or 3 o'clock.

Abdul has trained most of the prominent fighters before the public. His present charge is Joe Rivers, whom he has been training for a week.

Chip is the middleweight who recently knocked out Frank Klaus, claimant of the title in that class. This match would make a championship affair.

George Easton is hot after a match with Leach Cross for a $1000 bet to meet Babe Picato, and says he will put the title in the hands of any newspaper in Los Angeles to prove he is sincere. Babe is a well-known local boy and the youngest of the three Picato boys.

DUNDEE WON'T FIGHT WHITE.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Dec. 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Johnny Dundee of New York and other points, wants no more of Charley White's game, even though he is credited with being the victor in their last session. This fact was made known in a telegram received from the Italian battler to-night in which he turned down a $1200 offer to meet White in Racine. Besides this, he refused to meet Charley again in New Orleans, although Promoter Terterlich offered him $1500 and a per cent. to box on Christmas Day.

Dundee pleaded that he was in need of a vacation, although he consented to meet Joe Rivers in the Crescent City December 25 before White was substituted for the Los Angeles Mexican.

HINTS TO FAT LADIES BY A GREAT FIGHT TRAINER.

Abdul, the Turk, Who Trains Joe Rivers for His Battles, to Tell Pink Sheet Readers How the Buncoed Fair Ones Can Take Off Three to Five Pounds a Week by a Sure and Safe Process.

TO BE a fat lady is a cruel fate. To be bunked is a sad experience. But to be bunked because you are a fat lady is almost too much for words. So the pink sheet is coming to the rescue of the fair but fat charmers who are now beseeching the Federal grand jury clamoring for re-venge against "God's Masterpiece."

DAVE FULTZ PRESIDENT OF THE FEDERAL LEAGUE.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
PITTSBURGH (Pa.) Dec. 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "Dave Fultz, leader of the Players' Fraternity, was elected president of the Federal League at the meeting held a few weeks ago in Chicago," declared one of the most prominent magnates of the outfit organization.

"His contract calls for three years' service at a salary of $7000 the first year, $8000 the second year and $9000 the third year. For certain reasons which have to do with the Players' Fraternity and the major league, Mr. Fultz's selection will not be announced officially until after the Chicago meeting of the Federal League," continued the speaker.

"Mr. J. A. Gilmore, president of the Chicago Federal League team, was made acting president of the league. This action was taken after Mr. Fultz had been elected for the term of three years."

From the same source it was learned that Christy Mathewson, the famous Giant twirler and one of the leading lights in the Players' Fraternity, has been selected to succeed Fultz as the head of that organization.

The dispute which has arisen between the players and those clubs now in organized baseball have been settled to the complete satisfaction of the players.

"At the Chicago meeting of the Federal League," continued the speaker, "Mr. J. A. Gilmore, president of the Chicago Federal League team, was made acting president of the league. This action was taken after Mr. Fultz had been elected for the term of three years."

CALIFORNIA LEAGUE IS IN THE BALANCE THESE DAYS.

Magnates Meet in San Francisco Today and Tomorrow and State League Will Stand or Fall by Action of the Meeting—J. Cal Ewing Is Prepared to Put Up a Strenuous Argument.

(BY A P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 1.—Men who direct the fortunes of baseball in the Pacific Coast and California State leagues will meet here tomorrow and Wednesday, and upon their decisions hinges the fate of the State league and that of the Portland club in the Northwestern League. The latter question probably will not come up for discussion until Wednesday.

With regard to the California League, J. Cal Ewing, who runs the Watsonville club, has asserted that he will drop out unless some changes in the method of conducting the league are approved. Hen Berry of the Fresno club, Happy Hogan and Ed Maier of the Stockton organization and Tom Stephens of the San Jose club have not expressed positive opinions, and what action they will take remains to be determined.

Ewing's view is that the California League was organized by the Coast League magnates for the purpose of developing players for the class AA organization. His objection to the manner in which it was conducted last season is that too many players of established ability were on the teams. Even at that, a number of promising players were developed, but what Ewing desires is a written agreement from the other officials that only young players with a chance of being graduated into the Coast League be employed.

Ewing says that the Watsonville team cost himself and Frank Ish, who is associated with Ewing in the team, almost $10,000 last season, and that $25,000 was sunk in the league.

The Northwestern club in Portland is owned by the McCredies, also owners of the Portland club in the Coast League, and for a number of years there has been talk that baseball in Portland would be improved by the elimination of that city of the Northwestern team.

Important.
Talking It Over.
TARGET EXPERTS REACH HONORS.

Revolver shooting was an interesting topic in many quarters of town yesterday, a pleasant aftermath of the tri-service match shot between the police and National Guards on Sunday. Men who failed to get on the teams asserted their interest of securing places next season, and officers of the Seventh Regiment, also from the shirvel dispatches unrepresented in this first match for the Mackenzie and Wankowski trophies, laid plans for teams in the next match.

So many inquiries were made regarding the date of the next contest that the executive board is to hold a meeting at an early date for the purpose of arranging a form of permanent organization and settling the conditions of the 1914 match. As no improvement developed in the conditions governing Sunday's match, it is probable that no alterations of importance will be made.

TROPHY PRESENTATIONS.
Names of the winning teams are being inscribed upon the two trophies, preparatory to their formal presentation by the donors.

Mayor Ross, chairman of the executive board, and Lieut. Alfred Mackenzie are to present to the winning police team the rich Mackenzie trophy, while by then a second prize, to be made by them, will be the service revolver.

Gen. Robert Wankowski is to present in person to the team of Battery A, Field Artillery, the beautiful loving cup so well earned, as second prize, to be made by them, will be the service revolver.

CAVALRY HONORS.
Troop D, Cavalry, has the honor of sending into the match the highest percentage of enrollment of any eligible unit. Capt. James Gump was the first commander to express his intention of sending an independent team, and out of his paper roll of fifty men he brought ten into the match, with others in reserve and anxious to compete, all carefully coached by himself.

These men shot with weapons inferior to most others on the field, using Colt's service revolvers of many years' use, and units for the ammunition now issued. The modern inside lubricated bullets practically drop through the barrels. If separated from the cartridges, some being so erratic Sunday as to white point the butts like saws, without touching the targets.

Battery marksmen also suffered from a similar handicap, their weapons having seen slightly less service. Military organizations are to be armed next year with the new government model Colt's automatic pistol and up-to-date amm.

Providence and the administration permit the unit, scores by many per cent. may then be looked for from the same men, who will have increased confidence as well as the superior arms.

LOYAL POLICE.
Sergeant W. E. Smith, coach of the police team, in his report to Chief Sebastian, rightly gave his men credit for accomplishing a worthy feat at much personal sacrifice. Their previous hours off duty were freely given up to practice, and their hard-earned salary devoted to purchases of the necessary ammunition. Some officers expended $15 each for cartridges, besides buying new guns in some instances. All save one used Smith & Wesson .38 specials; the exception used a Luger automatic.

ALL-SERVICE TEAM.
An officer of the regular army present at the match suggested that a team of the best ten men eligible to these matches, regardless of organization distinction, could give a real challenge similar teams from any city on the Coast, to shoot across ranges or by mail. The idea seemed peculiar and impracticable. The ten men who stood highest Sunday, in order, were: Smith, Haver, Rice, De Temple, Toolen, Schreiner, Ford, Leur, Douglas and Jones. Others might displace some of these on tryouts for an all-Los Angeles team.

MYSTERY IS DISCOVERED.
SOMEBODY TRIED TO LURE NAVY PLAYER AWAY.
Telegram Sent to Quarterback Nichols of the Navy Would Have Taken Him Out of the Game. McReavey's Knee Is in Very Bad Shape.

(BY A P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
ANNAPOLIS (Md.) Dec. 1.—An incident in connection with the Army-Navy football game in New York on Saturday is being investigated by Naval Academy authorities. Just before the game started, Nichols, Navy quarterback, was handed a telegram which said his father was seriously ill and requested him to start immediately for home. The initials were not those of the Midshipman Nichols and he did not connect the signature with any of his relatives. The telegram was dated Baltimore, while Nichols' family live in Spartanburg, S. C.

Although Nichols discredited the telegram, he felt some anxiety until he learned his father was in good health. If the telegram was the work of someone who wished to weaken the Navy team, it has been suggested, Nichols naturally would have been selected, as upon him devolved the section governing Sunday's match.

Midshipman C. J. McReavey, Navy half-back, who was put out of Saturday's game with a dislocated knee and torn ligaments, is in the Navy hospital. Surgeons say he will not be able to take part in athletics this winter. Perry, who played center, was kicked in the side and has an internal injury.

WHAT ARMY SAYS.
(BY A P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
WEST POINT (N. Y.) Dec. 1.—The forward-pass formations and other plays used so successfully by the Army football team against the Navy last Saturday were not the result of outside coaching, according to a statement issued today by the Army athletic council. Coach Fielding H. Yost of the University of Michigan, the manager of the team, said that he and West Point and did not assist Lieut. C. D. Daly, head Army coach.

PALO ALTO SHOWS CLASS THIS YEAR.
(Special Correspondence of The Times.)
STANFORD, Nov. 30.—By defeating Lick High school to the tune of 28 to 0 yesterday afternoon, Palo Alto High school won the championship of the Academic Athletic League and also the right to meet the southern High School champs.

Although the San Francisco Rugger had the best of the weight and put up a hard fight, the speed and superior knowledge of Rugby displayed by the "Palo" boys allowed no doubt as to the result at any time in the game.

Careful study of Stanford varsity play showed through the open field work of the winning team, and a frequent use of the fake pass and various other clever Rugby plays kept their opponents well scattered.

The weight of the victors' scrum gave them an advantage which the poor work of their front rankers lost them. The Palo Alto stars, Wallace, Capt. Card and Green, showed up well and will cause the southern champions their greatest troubles.

Wallace, Morse and Phippen made the score for the first half read 8-0; and the point winners for the second period were Kirksey, Card, Wallace and Green.

THEILLE CUP AGAIN CHANGES HANDS.
(Special Correspondence of The Times.)
STANFORD, Nov. 30.—The Theille cup at Stanford University is the most historic tennis trophy on the Coast. It was presented on November 24, 1904, and was to go per- manently to the team winning it three times in succession; but since that time no one has held it for more than one year.

Each fall it is the reward of the winner of the Thanksgiving handicap singles. The present holder is H. L. Field, who with three others, J. S. Hutchinson, R. L. Murray and Paul Bennett, have fought their way through a long list of entries. Murray is a former holder of the cup and will no doubt be Hahn's opponent in the final.

Our Own Trucks. FINE REPORT FOR MORELAND.

Volume of Business Equals that of Eastern Plants.

Home-Made Products Have Come Into Own.

Designer Says We Soon Will Build All Our Trucks.

BY BERT C. SMITH.

With a budget large enough to compare favorably with some of our large eastern concerns, the Moreland Motor Truck Company has finished its year's business with a glowing report. Over $200,000 has been expended for wages and 175 men have been kept steadily at work turning out the handsome line of trucks, which have sold so readily.

In addition to this amount of money spent for wages $150,000 has been expended in Los Angeles for hardware, crucible steel and brass and iron castings, as well as springs, paints and sheet-metal work. This immense sum has been kept in Los Angeles because of our home-made goods. Four other factories, manufacturing Moreland radiators, steel castings, springs and carburetors are also kept busy making parts.

This means at least 400 wage earners in this city who are interested in keeping the Moreland factory open. We believe in home products. The Moreland factory is competing successfully with every other concern in the East and for the first time in the motor-truck industry a local plant is in the front rank with a sales organization that can show as large, or, according to Watt Moreland, a larger sales record than any other factory in the business.

LIKE BEE HIVE.

The Moreland factory is spread out over two and a half acres of ground. It is like a bee hive. Thirty-two trucks were manufactured in November and forty will be built this month. In two years, according to the Moreland man, all the trucks sold in the West will be manufactured here.

"We have the advantage of freight rates. We can secure the right kind of labor here on the ground," said Designer Moreland yesterday. "We need not fear competition now, as I confidently believe that every truck sold in California, in a short time, will be manufactured here."

"It costs us less to manufacture Moreland trucks in Los Angeles than it does the eastern manufacturers. Sun-heated buildings instead of steam heated, cheap electric power, the best labor in the world, are some of the reasons. Our labor costs us more than eastern manufacturers, but it is worth more, because it is more efficient."

"We propose to more than double our present plant. We will have our new motor factory in operation after the first of the year, giving employment to about fifty more skilled mechanics. Arrangements have been completed for the erection of a high-grade brass and aluminum factory. This will be in operation in about sixty days."

ONLY A BABY.

"The motor truck industry is only in its infancy, and we propose to grow with it. There are four motor truck factories in Los Angeles. These factories can supply any size or design of trucks that can be supplied by the eastern manufacturers. These factories are going to keep in Los Angeles the millions of dollars that will be expended for motor trucks, and they will make money in doing it. More than $72,000,000 is sent East every year to pay for automobiles from the State of California alone. There is no reason why automobile can not be manufactured in California, and a large slice of this money kept at home."

"We have had our land and building development; our agricultural products are known to the world over. Manufacturing of all lines must be fostered and developed. Factories must not be hindered by restrictive legislation. The banks must help us make this industry one of our greatest resources. We must learn to patronize our own home industries. Our money thus spent will come back to us in increasing business."

"We have shown the world that we can successfully compete with the best truck factories which were in operation when we commenced business less than three years ago. Now we have grown until we are second in size to no concern manufacturing trucks exclusively. We have a bright future and will continue to manufacture the high-grade Moreland truck."

SAW WILL DESTROYED.

The question whether the will of David Owen Davis of Monrovia was destroyed and the legality of an assignment of mortgage to three of his five children, arises in the administration of the $10,000 estate. Davies, it seems, shortly before his death, went to reside with a son, Dan O. Davies. Dan says he saw the will destroyed in the presence of his father.

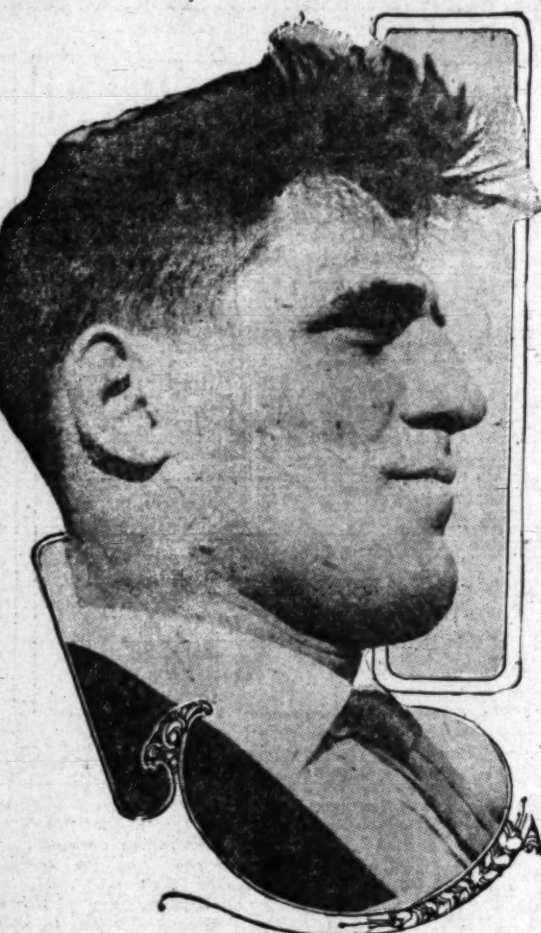

Under the provisions of the will the five children would have shared equally in the estate. Under the assignment of the mortgage, John R. Davies and Mary E. Griffin receive nothing. The allotment under the mortgage is: Dan, four-tenths; Ruth Bulla and Sarah J. Johnson, three-tenths each.

Mary has filed a petition for letters testamentary. The case came before Judge Fives yesterday on a demurrer. We took the matter under submission.

TO BE SENTENCED.

L. L. McGreal comes up for sentence today before Judge Willis upon conviction of obtaining money under false pretenses. The case was prosecuted by Deputy District Attorney Doran. McGreal was charged with obtaining $400 from J. G. Maultby for the avowed purpose of digging a well on some land in Cudahy, Wis.

The evidence tended to show that the land is worthless in spite of an abstract of title furnished by C. P. and C. D. Warden of the Western Abstract and Title Company and that the defendant knew that he misrepresented the facts when he secured the loan. The jury brought in a verdict of guilty Saturday.

FATE OF RUGBY UNION RESTS WITH VARSITIES.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

STANFORD, Nov. 30.—That the Rugby Union rests on the acceptance or rejection of the union by the two northern universities of the State is the opinion of union officials as voiced by L. S. Reading, vice-president of that body and chairman of the board of referees. It is at present a rule-making body, without the power to enforce its decisions.

Reading said, in part: "In my opinion its left depends to a great extent on the immediate action of the two principal universities of the State. The intercollegiate rules and those of the union do not harmonize. In order to insure the life and value of the union, it must be recognized as a controlling power in football, and the universities must recognize its power to absolutely regulate all contests. Otherwise the universities will find themselves unable to cope with the problems that will arise later on. At present a player may be ordered off the field, but may not be suspended nor in any way punished, no matter how great his crime may be. The interest of Rugby enthusiasts should be a common interest devoted to the welfare and clean playing of the game, and a strict adherence to the observance of those rules now recognized by every other country playing Rugby football."

ROUTE TO BE PICKED FOR CONSISTENCY TOUR SOON.

THE committee in charge of the Los Angeles automobile dealers' consistency tour, which will be held December 11, 12 and 13, will decide today the time of the path-finding trip over the route.

Chairman McDuffee and several of the officials will make the trip, visiting all the towns and arranging the details for the various stops when the models will be exhibited.

It has been decided that the first stop will be Pomona. From there the cars will be driven to Ontario, Upland and San Bernardino, whence the route leads to Redlands and Riverside. The first night's stop will be at Riverside.

The start next morning will take the cars over the historic Box Springs grade to Ferris, Elmore and Zionsville. It is the present plan to go over the old Pala grade, but that point will be decided on the path-finding trip.

The committee also will decide upon the luncheon stops and the checking points. The establishing of checking points will be one of the important matters decided, as the cars will be forced to run on schedule, and at secret checking points official time will be taken. The drivers will be told that they must drive on a certain schedule and they will not know where the checking points are located. One of the features of the tour will be the driving of the various cars by the dealers. The leading and latest models will make the run.

At San Diego the morning will be devoted to sightseeing and the afternoon to a gymkhana. The nature of these events is yet to be decided.

Another foreign missionary who has become an enthusiastic motorcyclist, is the Rev. R. R. Reppert of Won Ju, Korea.

VIEW THE AUTOS.
The George manslaughter case is expected to reach the jury tonight. Yesterday the jury was taken to a garage where the two machines which were in collision, are stored.
The defense is endeavoring to show that the defendant was on the right side of the road for at least seventy-five feet prior to the collision and that he was going not more than thirty miles an hour. It is also alleged that the brakes on the car of A. S. Carman were not working properly prior to the accident.

OUTGENERATED THEIR FRIENDS
William Beesmyer of Hollywood and Miss Leah Marsh of Pasadena stole a march on their friends last night at 9 o'clock and were married at the home of Rev. J. P. Widney on Pasadena avenue, in the presence of the bride's mother and the father and mother of the groom. This morning they will leave for the north on the steamer Yale. The friends of the young couple were laying plans to give them a lively send-off, but were out-generated by the performance of the ceremony last night.

MOVEMENTS IN SOCIETY.

has just returned from an eastern trip. Miss Cooper is a talented musician.

MISS GODFREY HOLTERHOFF and Mrs. William T. Bishop, Jr., are planning a delightful dinner for Miss Helen Jones and Miss Drake, the latter the debutante daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Drake of South Hoover street, who was introduced at a large party and ball last week. The dinner will be presided over by Mrs. Bishop, while Mrs. Bishop will do the honors at the dance.

Members of the younger set will be greatly interested in the dinner to be given by Mrs. Hugh Livingston Macnell of South Figueroa street for Miss Drake this evening at the California Club. A delightful evening is anticipated. On Saturday evening Mrs. Dean Mason will be a charming hostess at a luncheon for Miss Drake, and many other delights will be announced later.

To Give Tea Party. Mrs. Joseph F. Sartori and Miss Juliet Bolleau of South Figueroa street have issued cards for a tea party for December 10. This will be the first of three similar affairs.

planned by Mrs. Sartori and Miss Bolleau.

Guest of Aunt. Miss Emily Warner, who with her mother has been making her home at the Bryson, is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Morris Allen Arnold in Seattle. While in the northern city she is being extensively entertained. Miss Warner was one of the charming debutantes of last winter.

Formal Announcement. Formal announcement is made of the engagement of Mrs. Laura Blair of No. 619 South Bonnie Brae street to Hoyt Broughton Hunt, formerly of Ft. Wayne, Ind. Thursday, December 15, has been chosen by the bride-to-be for her wedding day.

To Tour South Seas. Under the direction of D. F. Robertson, manager of the steamship department of the California Savings Bank, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Jones, Dr. Roy Nangle and Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Webster will sail from San Francisco December 9 on a two-months' cruise to Tahiti, New Zealand and Australia, returning via the South Sea Islands and Honolulu.

For Mrs. Clark. In honor of Mrs. Joy Clark, Mrs. R. W. Shoemaker of Hollywood is entertained with a box party at the Majestic last Saturday afternoon. Those enjoying the affair were Mrs. Charles Modini-Wood, Miss Elizabeth Wood, Miss Elizabeth Hoag, Miss Gwendolyn Davis and Mrs. Clara Funk. Tea followed the performance.

House Party. A group of young people from the West Adams Methodist Episcopal Church were entertained at a week-end beach party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Barnes. The outing was assisted by the Misses Margaret Berry, Aleta Bennett, Marcia Fisher, Vera Kimball, Ruth Wisner, Fern Fisher, Ruth Dexter and Marian Brown.

Luncheon and Bridge. Mrs. Charles Sinclair of No. 1363 West Twenty-third street was hostess at a luncheon and bridge party, when she honored members of the West Twenty-third street bridge club. Violets and Cecile Brunner in a gold basket formed an attractive centerpiece and cards held plates for Mrs. Stone, Mrs. Greer, Mrs. Dowdell, Mrs. Hoen, Mrs. Benzer, Mrs. Schmidt, Mrs. Hellickson, Mrs. Throughgood, Mrs. Reynolds, Mrs. Wiser and Mrs. Ewing.

Arrowhead Notes. Mrs. Vernon Goodwin and son, and Miss Jessica Brown of this city are enjoying a sojourn in the mountains. Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Scheller of Los Angeles and Miss Mota Scheller of Pasadena were among the society folk who motored to Arrowhead for Thanksgiving. Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Miller, Sr., of Santa Monica were also among the Thanksgiving visitors. Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Knapp and nephew, Fred Blake, of Los Angeles, have taken rooms at Arrowhead Hotel for an indefinite stay.

Home from Seattle. Mrs. George McCaskey and Mrs. James McCaskey of 1211 E. Commercial street have returned from a trip to Seattle, where they were the guests of their brother, W. T. Hofstadter.

White Shrine Social Club. The members of the White Shrine Social Club entertained their families with an old-fashioned Thanksgiving party last Friday evening at the Wednesday Morning Clubhouse. Twenty-eight and thirty guests. Most of the guests were dressed as Puritans. Cards, with prizes, and dancing were the pleasures provided, followed by refreshments. About 200 guests were included.

Juvenile Party. Mrs. Carroll Van Court of No. 3117 San Pedro street entertained with a juvenile party last week, honoring the second birthday anniversary of her daughter, Doris Louise. Pink and red roses with yellow chrysanthemums enlivened the home, while a birthday cake with two burning pink tapers was the feature of the dining-room table. Included among the guests were Mrs. Robert Seider and daughters, Ruth and Katherine; Mrs. Roy D. McCollum and daughter, Elizabeth; Mrs. Ed Moore and son, Jack; Miss Helen Ross, Miss Velma Ferrara, Mrs. J. A. Townsend and sons, Donald and Paul; Mrs. Elizabeth Warrington, Mrs. W. A. Dutton and daughter, Eva May, and Mrs. D. C. Van Court.

Dinner Party. A charming hostess recently was Mrs. J. Murray Page, when she entertained with a Thanksgiving dinner at her home, No. 403 South Hoover street. The motif of decoration was in autumnal tints of russet, brown and golden tones of chrysanthemums, and the warm scarlet and yellow of fruits in a great basket decorated the sideboard. Dainty napery, glistening silver and brilliant-toned ribbons of satin and tulle, lent their aid in adding to the effect. Hand-painted cards adorned with turkeys marked covers for Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hudson, Dr. and Mrs. William J. Morton, Messrs. Rollin Whitney, John Keper, Richard Hudson, Harvey Page, Miss Jeanette Hudson and Mr. and Mrs. Page. Later in the evening other guests were included, and auction bridge was enjoyed.

Personal Mention. Mr. and Mrs. John A. Woodward accompanied by their children, Miss Elizabeth and Tyler Woodward, have closed their home and taken apartments for the winter.

Married in Denver. The marriage of Platt Rogers, Jr., of Los Angeles, and Miss Regina McPhee, a charming Denver society young woman, was quietly celebrated in Denver yesterday afternoon in the presence of the families of the young people and a few close friends, according to a dispatch last night to The Times. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Monsignor Phillips of the Catholic Cathedral parish, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. McPhee, Sr.

The illness of the bride's father made a quiet home wedding necessary. The bride wore her going-away gown of brown velvet, with hat to match. Mr. and Mrs. Rogers started last evening for their home, where they will make their home. The bride, who has been a favorite in social circles, is a beautiful brunette. She received her education at Sacred Heart College in New York. The groom is the son of Platt Rogers, a Denver attorney, and a brother-in-law of Lawrence Cowie Phillips. He is connected with a contracting firm here.

KIDDER AT THE ORPHEUM.

Noted Star Presents Play About Napoleon.

Peek Into Future Given at the Empress.

Thrills and Pretty Girls at Hippodrome.

The romance of Sans Gene offers many pretty themes to the playwright. Translated from the laundry to Napoleon's court, he blooms a vigorous and colorful rose that bluffs Marshal Lefebvre faints with pride. All honor to him for his solid good sense.

And all honor to Josephine for understanding the sterling qualities, the honesty, the loyalty of this shrewd and shrewd washerwoman in satin. At least, in the play which Kathryn Kidder is presenting at the Orpheum this week the Empress Josephine leans on Madame Sans Gene for help in a ticklish emergency.

The situation of "The Washerwoman's Dues" is dramatically strong and tense, and Sans Gene being the chief character the episode offers much delightful comedy. Count De Morney appears, Lefebvre and Napoleon. John Marchand looks much like the little conqueror, though one suspects that the Napoleon of history was rather more awe-inspiring. Robert Middlemass as De Morney is fine, many and convincing, but Charles Canfield robs Lefebvre of dignity by over-acting the part.

Kathryn Kidder, of course, is the Kidder we have learned to know and like—the painstaking, finished actress, somewhat elocutionary, perhaps, being a product of the "old school," as distinguished from that of today. She reads her lines beautifully, as all good actors of yesterday do, and in a beautiful, beautiful, beautiful manner. She gives verisimilitude to the beautiful humanity of the errand Sans Gene.

That fellow of infinite jest, James J. Morton (we all know him, Horatio), is with us once again, and though his jests are the old ones with slightly different twists, they are given in the solemn absurdity of the old manner—and therefore we laugh and laugh.

Four Chinese comedians are sufficiently startling as a vaudeville novelty, and Chung Hwa and his assistants are received with acclaim, even though their farces seem orientally elemental to the occidental mind. These Chinamen have a gently been educated in American colleges. They wear gorgeous kimonos, but no queues, they have good singing voices and they take off a few Scotch Highlanders in amusing. Unusually effective scenically is the offering of the three Ellisons, one of the three being a very pretty girl. They call it "The Village Blacksmith." And give us in pantomime a pleasing presentation of Louisa's poem, "The Village Blacksmith."

As jugglers the Blank family, a father, two brothers and a good-looking sister, have few superiors. They do stunts that take your breath. An interesting and novel announcement of the Orpheum's moving-pictures is this: "Do your Christmas shopping early and help the clerks." Held over: Clara Morton in "Finding the Family," Conlin, Steele and Carr in vaudeville follies; Sam Chip and Mary Marble in "The Land of Dykes."

Empress. Something of what the future may hold in store for us, when the suffragettes have their full swing for a time, is graphically portrayed at the Empress Theater this week in "Court by Girls," a little musical farce founded on Gilbert and Sullivan's "Trial by Jury," especially on its musical side, which, of course, is therefore delightful.

But the fun is almost as good as the music, and the girls are numerous and attractive. Too, they act and sing as if they thoroughly enjoyed themselves. There is no decorum in the court of the future—there has been very little, indeed, in that of the past. Judge, prosecuting attorneys and jury, being all eternally feminine, do not conduct themselves in the masculine manner. The travesty shows that their sense of justice is still as rudimentary as ever, so that neither the pretty and plaintive plaintiff nor the dejected defendant receives much consideration from judge or jury. If you want a good laugh, if you like to look at a lot of pretty girls, if you enjoy useful numbers, go and see "Court by Girls."

In "Nature's Nobleman" we have another historical character portrayed. This time it is Abraham Lincoln, who appears in the play by that name, an episode at Washington in the year 1862. Arthur Cosliger assumes the role of Lincoln, looking a good deal like him, but not acting much like him. The imagination refuses to accept this version as our hero. The playlet is well done and well acted, the part of Virginia Peyton, acted by Charlotte Julien, being both sympathetic in feeling and attractive to the eye.

Of the Dago—the stage Dago—we can never have enough, especially when he is presented to us with the completeness that Ross gives to his characterization of him. Ross is well-nigh perfect, he doesn't let us lose the illusion for one moment. He is assisted by Anthony, and between them they get off some new jokes and a lot of old ones.

The stage Englishman, too, is a perpetual delight. John Gardner gives him this week, dense, drawing, mining and monocled, the type to a T. His partner in the silt is Jeanette Lowrie, who's a buxom American maid holding animated converse (none too respectful) with the Lunnon lord. Lively music with voice and piano from Smith, Voelck and Cronin, expert juggling from W. J. Dubois, and a clever farce comedy from the movies.

Hippodrome. "The Earl and the Maid," a musical comedy in miniature, makes a fascinating headliner for the show which opened at the Hippodrome Monday afternoon. It is presented by Harold Holland and a clever company of seven, is replete with tuneful ditties and clever dialogue, and exceptionally well presented.

Close contenders for headline honors are the Aerial Ballets, whose feats on the trapeze are as startling as they are daring, and another real sensation is afforded by "The Rock- less Vernons," whose "cage of death" probably produces more real thrills per minute than any act of its kind in vaudeville.

In marked contrast are the E. Von sisters, two girls who are decidedly pretty, altogether entrancing, and equipped with a budget of delightful material of the sure-fire hit variety. Abram & Johns are this week offering.

ing a society life playlet called "The Game of Life." It is full of human heart interest, is extremely dramatic and one of the biggest hits on the new bill. The Clayton more than justify their sobriquet of "the greatest dancers and yodlers in vaudeville," and Irving Roth completes the show with his imitable "wow of comedy. Besides, the pictures are so good this week that one would commit an injustice even to class them as "also rans."

Clune's "When the Earth Trembled," the great drama of the San Francisco earthquake and fire, opened for a return engagement at Clune's Broadway Theater, and the crowds which thronged the theater proved that the management had made no mistake in bringing back this stellar picture.

The stirring scenes of mothers seeking their lost babes, thousands of destitute and panic-stricken refugees landing on Oakland mole from the ferries, and lovers finding their sweet hearts, supposed dead, make this film an attraction of unusual beauty.
